FEW IN ATTENDANCE AT HEARINGS

Zoning Hearing Adjourned To Jan 3

by E. Lee

On Dec. 20 and 21 public hearings on the proposed Zoning and Subdivision Control Ordinances for the village of Woodridge were held at the Woodridge School.

Joe McGrath, chairman of the six man board appointed to preside over the hearings, called the hearings to order with two residents of the village, one resident of the adjoining area and this reporter in attendance.

Objections were made about the area proposed as R-3, which would allow multiple family dwellings. The main objection was the possible increase in school taxes which could result from a larger school enrollment because of these dwellings.

The board felt this area would provide a screen for the proposed shopping center. The feasibility of this was questioned by the audience.

The hearing on the proposed Zoning Ordinance was adjourned to Jan. 3 at the village hall.

The Subdivision Control Ordinance hearing was held Dec. 21. Three residents of the village other than the board were the only persons in attendance.

Chairman Joseph McGrath said after the adjournment of the meeting, "I would like to go on record as stating the board and I were very disappointed in the lack of participation at these public hearings. I thank those who did attend. These two ordinances will guide the village of Woodridge for many years to come and should have been of vital concern to all the residents in the area."

Here Are The Highlights Of 1961 In Woodridge

by Ramona Kinser

1961 was an eventful year in the rapidly growing community of Woodridge.

Here are highlights of some of the news stories of the year.

Top news story of January, 1961, was the opening of the new Woodridge school on the 23rd. All eight grades were moved from Goodrich School putting an end to double shifts the students had been attending since the start of the school year.

February found the first candidates filing their petitions for village office. The election to determine village president, clerk, police magistrate, and three trustees was scheduled for April 18.

At a spirited school board caucus held February 15, Ned Hill and Marvin Wiggins were chosen as the favorite candidates to represent Woodridge in the school board election April 8.

Village candidates continued to dominate the news in March vying at an open forum sponsored by the Woodridge Home Owners Association March 27.

Also in March Surety Builders announced an anticipated 100 to 200 new homes were scheduled for construction in the summer.

TIME OUT FOR COFFEE BREAK

Paul Molloy, (center) enjoys time out for a coffee break following his speech to the District 68 Community Club on Dec. 15.

Molloy Rips Increase In TV & Movie Filth

The emphasis on immorality and perversion prevalent in recent motion pictures will increase in coming months and may eventually be found on television.

Paul Molloy, TV critic of the Chicago Sun-Times, advanced this prediction in his talk with members and guests of the District 68 Community Club, Dec. 15, at the Woodridge School gym.

The award winning journalist-author based his view of future entertainment prospects on his knowledge of the attitudes of leaders in the entertainment industry and careful observation of trends.

Molloy recalled how shocking it was considered to be when the late Clark Gable used the word "damn" in his role as Rhett Butler in the screen version of "Gone with the Wind". Molloy contrasted this simple beginning in 1939 with the fact that last year's major academy awards were swept by movies whose themes were dominated by immorality. Each further step in the direction of immoral entertainment themes is accompanied by public protests which are too small and ineffective, Molloy said.

Molloy reminded his audience that our children are too much exposed to movies and television programs which increasingly treat marital infidelity as amusing or adventurous; which through sheer repetition make violence seem normal; and which more often than not mock the institutions and virtues which have made our nation great.

Molloy recommended writing to sponsors as the most effective means of reducing undesirable TV programming. He said that sponsors are extremely sensitive to criticism of their TV offerings -- that even a handful of critical letters causes sponsor soul searching. Writing to network or local stations has little value, Molloy believes.

A special feature of Molloy's appearance was the "coffee break" period following his speech. Molloy discussed various subjects with those present and autographed copies of his best selling book "And Then There Were Eight", a supply of which was made available by the Community Club.

School Board Certifies Referendum Vote

The Dec. 11 school board meeting was held for the primary purpose of making the official canvas of votes cast at the Dec. 9 special election.

The official results are as follows:

Precinct I (Goodrich)		Precinct II (Woodridge)
65	yes	170
66	no	73
3	spoiled	4

A total of 381 votes were cast, 374 of which were valid.

Al Olsen, board member, reported that the custodians had told him of finding both the boys and girls washrooms in extreme disorder on Saturday mornings following the teen dances. Marvin Wiggins also told of meeting two boys quite late one Friday night walking along 75th st. These boys told him they were returning from the teen dance. It had been previously stipulated by the board, and agreed to by the W. A. A., that the school building be left as it was found, and that all children were to be driven home.

Ned Hill spoke in favor of the teen dances and the adults who were chaperones. While the rest of the board agreed with him, and particularly commended the chaperones, it was felt that some remedial action should be taken.

It was recommended by John Dahlberg and seconded by Al Olsen that the use of the school gym for teen dances be denied for one month as a disciplinary measure.

Maurine McMillan, secretary, was instructed to write a letter to the W. A. A. informing them of the board's decision.

Brownie Troop leader, Mrs. Flo Benckendorf and assistant leader, Mrs. Lois Demmin, with their Brownie troop carolling tour in Woodridge.

O'Neill Resigns as Village Clerk

In a letter dated Dec. 8, 1961, Mary Ann O'Neill resigned as village clerk of Woodridge. She has served in this capacity since April.

Following is the letter addressed to the village board of Woodridge, William T. Roberts, copies of which were sent the trustees and the Woodridge News Review:

"This is to notify you of my resignation as Woodridge village clerk, effective immediately.

The services I have had the opportunity of rendering in this capacity have been a source of real satisfaction. My successor will find that we now have an organized business office within the village.

However, recent events make it impossible for me to continue in this office.

I feel strongly that civic responsibility has many facets - that of official to voter, that of voter to official, that of officials toward one another. This seems a morality too long ignored in this village. It is my firm hope that Woodridge will emerge as a community in which the burden of civic responsibility will be shared fairly by all residents."

Regretfully,
Mary Ann O'Neill

WAA Suspends Teen Dances

At the Dec. 12 meeting of the Woodridge Athletic Association it was announced by President Robert Arnouil that the Teen Dances would be discontinued until further notice.

Arnouil said this action became necessary because he had been informed by a member of the school board that they (the school board) had decided to cancel the use of the gymnasium during January.

In an agreement entered into with the District 68 school board, the WAA had received permission to use the gym for a $3.00 fee per dance. The school board required certain conditions; all children attending were to be transported home; they were to act in an orderly manner; the WAA was to be held responsible for the condition of the premises, and adequate adult chaperones were to be present.

A letter outlining this agreement was sent to the parents of the teens who attend the dances.

Richard Lee, board member, said, "However, as in the past the WAA has received little help from the parents. It also became apparent at the last dance that very few parents were picking up their children, even those from outside the Dances - Turn to page 2, col. 1 village in the Hobson Road area."

Lee went on to explain, "Several teens are known now to have told the chaperones that their parents were picking them up after the dance, but were later observed by a member of the school board to be walking home. This plus damage done in the washrooms of the school prompted the school board to take action and revoke the use of the gym."

Mrs. John Narducci, co-chairman of the Teen Dances said, "I feel that it has become too big a problem to play baby-sitter every two weeks for a group of teens without some help from their parents. It seems such a shame that all must now be denied a good time, because of the actions of a few".

Arnouil in further comments said, "Until a genuine interest in the Teen Dances is shown by the parents, the WAA will not attempt to continue this activity".

This matter is to be discussed further at the next WAA meeting Jan. 9. The meeting will be held in the Village Hall at 8 p.m. Anyone interested may attend.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

Greetings for a happy and prosperous new year to the parents and residents of Woodridge Village. Many thanks to all those who have given such fine cooperation and who have in any way contributed to the success of the school during 1961. May we express our gratitude particularly to the Mothers Club, the committee of room mothers and to the high school girls who assisted with the Christmas program and parties.

We feel that the size of the audience on the night of the children's entertainment indicated the interest of the entire village in the school.

The Christmas program is the children's contribution to the Christmas season, and we were proud of every child for his performance.

O'Neill Explains Road Program

In a statement to the WNR, Superintendent of Public Works Patrick O'Neill said that though salt and cinders were spread through Woodridge, he feels that the effect was not as expected because of insufficient traffic. He further explained it is the traffic moving over the salt and cinders that creates the thawing.

The salt and cinders are being provided by the township road commissioner. As part of the agreement, O'Neill explained, the public works department is salting and cindering the streets in the unincorporated area of Woodridge.

Much of the work of loading the truck has been done by hand. The men are doing this work on a voluntary basis, but O'Neill expects that they will be paid for this work in the near future.

The Woodridge Police Benevolence Association has presented a check for $25.00 to the WAA.

Woodridge residents frolicked at a July 4 picnic in "Woodridge Woods". The celebration of Independence Day, complete with fireworks, also brought to mind the start of Woodridge's third year.

Jerry Beirau, carpenter foreman for Surety Builders, was elected captain of the volunteer fire department. In July, controversy raged over the proposed renovation of the village barn. Previously used by Surety Builders as a temporary warehouse for construction materials, the barn was to have been wrecked to make room for three additional homes. Frate residents protested when the barn became housing for a fire truck and advocated that instead of renovating the unsightly structure funds be raised to erect a new building in a more advantageous location.

On July 22, Arthur M. Berg beat his opponents, Horace Thoresen and Richard Marushak, in the race for police magistrate. Total votes cast numbered 175 with Berg receiving 79.

In August, the village board passed auto and traffic code ordinances involving autos, pedestrians, bicycles and vehicle weight limits.

Taxpayers in the area were informed of a proposed educational tax increase of $12.00 per $10,000. valuation to be voted on September 23. The referendum later carried 122 to 109.

Woodridge's flooded streets became the subject of a special board meeting September 26. A plan to provide an auxiliary sewer system submitted by Webster Engineering was approved by the village board.

Expansion plans for Woodridge and Goodrich schools were discussed at the October 2 school meeting. An additional bond issue was proposed to finance construction. Committees for the Citizens Advisory Council were formed to study the problem and make recommendations.

Also in October a new squad car was purchased for $1,785.68.

Woodridge school was officially dedicated November 5. School board President Don Miller presented a plaque to Jack Kaufman, vice-president of Surety Builders, in recognition of the company's contribution of land and $50,000 to the school district. Kaufman then gave Miller a check for $2,000 in partial payment of an agreement the builder had made to donate an additional $200 for each home over 400. The check covered homes 401 through 410.

The Woodridge News Review celebrated its first anniversary on November 17.

At its November 21 meeting the Mothers Club formally presented a movie projector, table and screen to Woodridge school.

Arthur Berg, police magistrate tendered his resignation effective November 15.

The school bond referendum calling for $180,000 to finance 8 additional rooms at Woodridge School and 3 at Goodrich, plus added washroom facilities, was voted on December 9 and passed 235 to 139.

Moe Family Improving

Harvey and Pat Moe and two of their three children remain in Hinsdale hospital as the WNR went to press.

Saturday, Dec. 9, their car was in a collision on route 83, one-half mile south of 55th Street.

The Moes were enroute to keep an appointment with a doctor.

Moe, who sustained lacerations and a badly injured knee, is now able to walk. Mrs. Moe is awaiting examination by an oral surgeon to determine extent of damage to her mouth when her jaw was broken.

Kenny, 5, whose condition due to a fractured skull had been so serious at first he had not been expected to live, is now sitting up.

Paul, 7, was in traction and doctors were expected to apply a cast to his broken leg last week.

Their daughter, Sherry, was released from the hospital on the 16th. She will stay with Moe's brother in Mundelein.

Tattle Tales

By Sue Townor

Everyone sends best wishes to the Moe family for a lovely Christmas and a Happier New Year. Pat and the two boys Kenny and Paul will still be hospitalized over Christmas, but with the help of their neighbors and the Garden Club, they should be well supplied with gifts.

Friends and neighbors of Lola Lincoln want to wish her a happy Holiday Season also.

Mrs. Lincoln was to be released Dec. 22, so she will be spending Christmas at home with her family.

The Stelling's, of 7647 Catalpa, held the "office Christmas party" in their home this year. They entertained several couples from Clark Oil Co. where Mr. Stelling is employed.

The teachers from Woodridge School held their Christmas party at White Fence Farm on Dec. 13. Besides the Woodridge teachers, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. McMahon, and Mrs. Werch were present. They enjoyed a lovely dinner and exchanged gifts.

Guess that's all this time. Everyone is too busy shopping and cleaning to be doing anything else. It's comforting to think that by the time you read this, all the excitement will be over.

Personal to Joanne!

See! I don't always tell everything!

High School Referendum Set

A $125,000 bond issue of the purchase of a second site for a high school in the southern section of the Downers Grove High School district will be submitted to voters Saturday, Feb. 17.

The amount of the issue and the date were officially authorized Dec. 18 by the board of education, District 99.

In setting a $125,000 figure, the board noted that this should cover land purchase and some site improvement. Supt. Glenn E. Pickrel was directed to check the local real estate board for appointment of one of its members as a broker to represent the district in negotiations with the property owner. If a satisfactory arrangement is not reached, a condemnation suit will be instituted.

School Christmas Program Packs Gym

"Christmas is for Children" was the theme of the program presented at Woodridge School, December 19.

Mrs. Joan Mason, music director and accompanist, planned and staged the entertainment with all eight grades participating.

The program presented to a standing room only crowd consisted of three parts.

First was the "trimming the tree" session with grades one through three. Each room marched onto the stage, added an ornament (made by them earlier in the week) and grouped together to sing a Christmas song.

Second, Coming of the Carolers, was presented jointly by the 4th and 5th grades. Eight selections were sung by the young people in front of the stage. On stage was a typical family scene on Christmas Eve. Two small children in pajamas and a mother and father in night dress.

As the onstage scene unfolded, the 6th, 7th, and 8th graders harmonized with a variety of Christmas Carols, in the third section of the program entitled The Night Before Christmas.

The Mothers Club participated with decorations and assistance in the seating.

The Room Mothers and High School girls helped by maintaining order in the individual rooms.

Stage props were made by the 5th and 8th grade boys.

Mrs. Krejci assisted in the choral reading.

Santa Claus was on hand to pass out candy canes to the very young. Obviously everyone participating and attending had fun.

When the truck pulls up and the firemen come in, it's too late to play safe then.

Friday the 15th, the Sanchezs had a party. It was sort of a spur of the moment party but to see the crowd you would not believe it.

Pat Barkauski had a birthday party and I think it was held at Cheryl's house.

I guess everyone has been having a good time lately-- Two weeks of vacation-- who wouldn't?

Well I hope everyone got what they wanted for Christmas-----

Center right: Sept. 5, flood waters reached a spread of 45 feet at the corner of Forest Glen and Walnut.

Often pictures are taken but not used for lack of space. The above pictures are from a random selection of some of these. All were taken during the year 1961.

Ralph H. Kennell was appointed to the village plan and zoning commission and Albert J. Zettler, Jr. was appointed purchasing agent. The reverse was reported in the Dec. 14, issue of the WNR.
