ELECTION DATE POSTPONED

MAGISTRATE ELECTION RESET TO FEB. 3rd

Following the conclusion of the regular January village board meeting, a special meeting was held to postpone the police magistrate election until Saturday, Feb. 3, 1962.

This special meeting was called by the unanimous petition of the board of trustees.

President William Roberts explained to the board that the legal notice of the election missed the deadline for publication in the pre-designated newspaper, the Suburban Life.

It is required by state statutes that publication of a legal notice of an election be not less than 15 or more than 30 days preceding the election.

The deadline for filing petitions for the office of police magistrate has also been changed to midnight Jan. 20.

Anyone who has lived in the state for one year, in the county for 90 days and at his present address for 30 days is eligible to petition for the position.

School Board Receives Bids For School

by Sue Towner

The bids for the addition to the Woodridge School building have been received. They were opened at the December 26th meeting. Two separate plans had been offered and each construction company submitted two sets of figures.

Plan A calls for general construction, "everything" included, with and without a library. Plan B was for construction only, heating, plumbing, electricity, etc. to be subcontracted, with and without a library.

The board is considering the bids and the possible advantages of doing their own subcontracting.

The bids received are as follows:

Note:

Code A-1 is plan A without library

Code B-1 is plan B without library

O'CONNELL QUESTIONS VILLAGE BOARD

Gene O'Connell, 2936 Westridge, asked the village board for information on snow plowing at the January village board meeting.

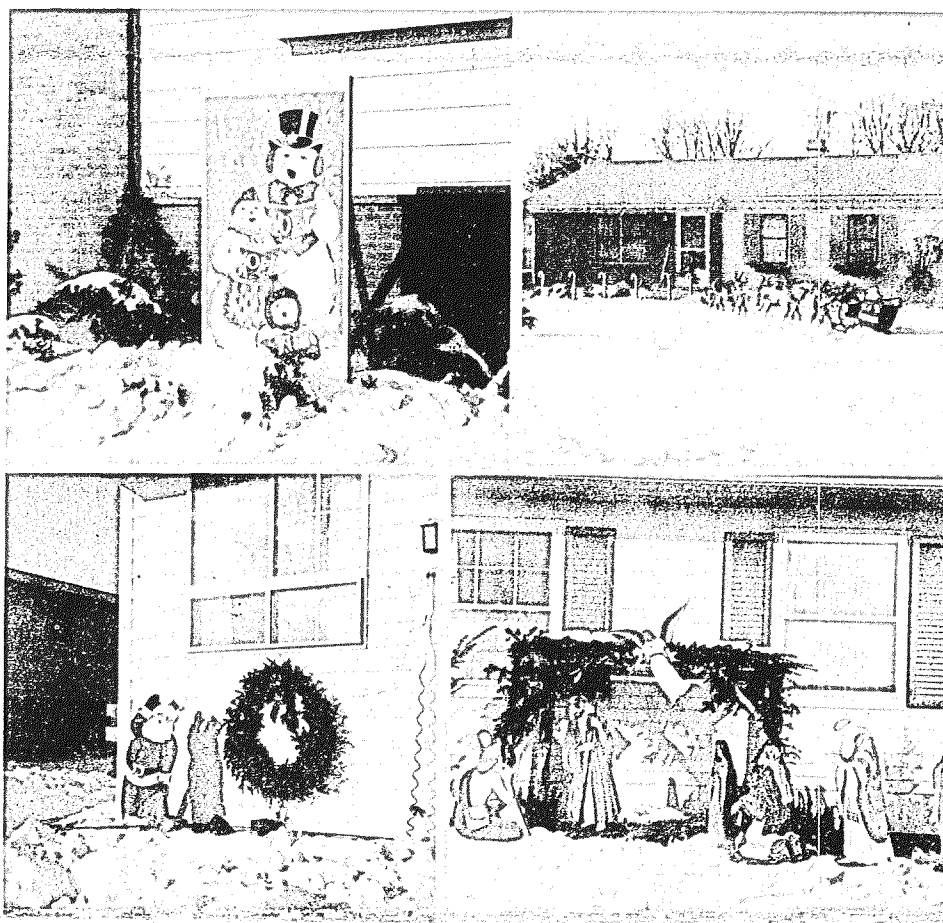

O'Connell asked why the village is plowing in the unincorporated area and on whose authority an "agreement" was reached between the Woodridge public works commissioner and the township road commissioner.

O'Connell referred to the Dec. 28 issue of the WNR in which Patrick O'Neill, superintendent of public works, explained that salt and cinders are being provided to the village by the township road commissioner and that part of the agreement is that the village plow, salt, and cinder the roads in the unincorporated area.

O'Connell also wanted to know who would pay for any property damage incurred by the plow or truck in the unincorporated area and why the village taxpayers should pay for operating costs of plowing this area.

President Roberts said the 'agreement' referred to was made by a public works commissioner and the township road commissioner. O'CONNELL - Turn to page 2, col. 1

Mechanical Failures Hamper Snow Removal

Between Dec. 9 and 29 the snow removal crew worked a total of 75 hours keeping Woodridge streets passable, said Patrick O'Neill, superintendent of public works, in a statement to the WNR. He said he personally spent 60 hours on the job.

After the heavy snowfall on Friday, the 22nd, the crew worked from 11:15 p. m. until 5:00 a. m. when the plow blade hung up on a curb and cracked a tie bolt between the plow and the underframe of the truck.

The crew was able to partially repair the damage and resumed plowing until the hydraulic system went out. O'Neill blamed this on the early morning breakdown. PLOW - Turn to page 3, col. 4

Road Commissioner Interviewed

Responding to an unusual number of complaints concerning snow removal from Woodridge area streets, the WNR interviewed Jean Burton, Lisle township road commissioner.

Burton was queried about the arrangement between the township and the village. See details on page 1 column 1. He said that he was doing the village a "favor". He explained this remark by saying that he was still holding the road bonds for units 1 and 2, and until such time as they are released, the burden of care and maintenance remain with the developer. Burton went on to say that he would not release the bonds before next spring.

He offered no explanation for not plowing the roads this year, even though he has done so for the past two winters, except to re-affirm that "it is not my responsibility."

When the road bonds are released, the village will assume the responsibility for the roads in the incorporated area and the township will assume responsibility for those in the unincorporated area.

Zoning Ordinance In Final Stages

by Barb Cooling

Wed., January 3, the Zoning Commission reconvened their Dec. 20 adjourned meeting.

O'Neill Resigns As Public Works Supt.

Superintendent of Public Works Patrick O'Neill submitted a letter of resignation to the board of trustees at the Jan. 4 village board meeting.

The trustees accepted his resignation to be effective Feb. 1.

A letter of commendation is to be sent to O'Neill.

O'Neill was appointed Superintendent of Public Works Dec. 1, 1960, and organized the public works department.

His letter explained that he wanted to be free to devote his entire efforts to his new position with a new corporation. He also expressed willingness to assist his successor in dealings with the state department of highways. The letter of resignation concluded with, "My year of service to the village has been most enlightening to me. I have had the satisfaction of organizing a department and hope that my successor will continue to build on the foundation laid by myself and the men on the Public Works Department."

COMMUNITY CENTER STUDIED

A newly formed special studies committee is to study and prepare a program for a community center. The plan is to include building costs, land costs and land availability. It is to be ready by the March board meeting.

Twin Santas Ride Through Woodridge

Twin Santas distributed approximately 725 Christmas stockings to Woodridge children Sat., Dec. 23. Their 2-hour tour of the village with police car and fire truck escorts was made possible through the financial help of 10 Woodridge organizations. They co-sponsored the event under the supervision of the Woodridge Homeowners Association.

Contributing organizations were the Police Benevolent Association; the Woodridge fire department; Woodridge Athletic Association; V. F. W. Post 4739; the Womens Auxiliary of the V. F. W.; Mothers Club; Garden Club; Surety Development Corporation; Woodridge Sewer and Water Company; and the Woodridge News Review.

About 275 stockings remained when the rides were completed. All but 60 of these were donated to the pediatrics wards of Hinsdale Hospital, LaGrange Community Memorial Hospital, and West Suburban Hospital in Oak Park.

Dan Hollowell of the W. H. O. A. said that any Woodridge child who did not receive a stocking may have one of the 60 that are left over.

Red Cross first aid classes will be held at the village hall each Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. beginning January 16. All who are interested in the fire department sponsored classes must register next Tuesday at the first class. Lt. Leroy Smith and Cecil McBride will be in charge of the classes.

The firemen are taking extensive instruction on inhalator work and fire fighting techniques, so they can give better service when needed.

The firemen's annual dance will be May 5, at the American Legion Hall in Downers Grove.

Stan Mack and his boys will provide the music.

ANNUAL GOODRICH SHOW DRAWS CROWD

Gay Christmas songs and nostalgic carols marked the Christmas program presented to parents and relatives by Goodrich school students December 20.

Mr. Gerald Phillips, assistant principal of the school, welcomed a capacity audience to the annual presentation that, he said, "to many has become the highlight of the school year". The lower grades helped decorate an on-stage Christmas tree and then sang a medley of songs.

The older children paved the way for Santa Claus, who punctuated the story of the night before Christmas by tumbling down a chimney and piling gifts under the tree.

The program was directed by Mrs. Joan Mason, who also accompanied the carolers at the piano.

lic official and that he (Roberts) didn't have enough information on it to answer.

O'Connell asked if the board was refusing to answer his questions. Roberts said that he will investigate. O'Connell then said, "You mean the board doesn't know?" Roberts said that if O'Connell would "direct his request for information to the board in writing an answer would be given."

In explanation of the questions O'Connell asked if the situation with the roads had changed in the past months.

He referred to the fact that the village had not accepted the roads from the developer. Trustee Leon Werch explained that there seem to be some legal question on what constituted 'acceptance' of the streets by the village.

O'Connell was recently appointed Republican precinct committeeman for precinct 18 of Lisle township which includes Woodridge. He was a trustee for the village of Woodridge and was formerly a co-editor of the Woodridge News Review.

Eleanor Murphy Appointed Clerk

Mrs. Eleanor Murphy was appointed acting village clerk by Village President William Roberts with board approval.

Mrs. Murphy lives at 7620 Catalpa. She has two children, Kurt, 9, and Sally, 1-1/2. Her husband Robert was appointed village trustee at the Nov. 2 board meeting.

Eleanor graduated from DePaul U. with a B. A. degree in psychology and English. She brings to this office a good business background, having been a secretary and having had business school training.

Mrs. Murphy will serve as acting village clerk until the general elections in April, 1963.

Library Developments Told

Chairman of the Library Development Committee, Mrs. Barbara Lentz commented that work has already been done toward obtaining library services from the state.

It is only a matter of some preparatory work, before we can have library facilities in Woodridge, she said.

The facilities will include a small permanent collection and bookmobile services.

It will be necessary, she pointed out, that there be an attempt on the part of Woodridge to have a beginning collection and this will mean a 'book drive'.

Mrs. Lentz said that to date the committee consists of Nancy Ruble, Helen Zettler, both of whom have librarian experience, Mary O'Neill, Vanona Vanderbrock, Gen Gray, Carol Berg and Ruth Lung.

For information or to volunteer assistance, call Mrs. Barbara Lentz, WO-8-1724.

OBITUARIES

Miss Charlotte Reimer, 29, sister of Mrs. Dan Hollowell, 7722 Westview Lane, was killed Sat., Dec. 30, in an auto accident. Miss Reimer was a nurse at West Suburban Hospital. The accident occurred at Butterfield and Midwest roads at about 5:30 p.m. She had left the Hollowell home at about 5 p.m. to go bowling and was to have returned there afterward.

John West, 62, father of Gerald West, 2810 Crabtree, died Dec. 19 at Pana, Illinois.

TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor of the Woodridge News Review:

The Crabtree barn, in terms of property devaluation and utter frustrations, is an obvious tragedy to the barn area residents. There are, however, deeper tragedies. To understand these, one must be familiar with the history of the barn and of the village government.

The barn was not to exist beyond the spring of 1961, according to a letter written by the developer. Covenants and commitments filed with the County and the V. A. projected three homes on the lots in question.

The Village government was formed by the first few residents of the Woodridge area. The village boundary lines zigged and zagged to such an extent, that it took hundreds of words to legally describe. Many who had no voice in the proceedings, found themselves outside the Village limits and unable to vote when elections were finally arranged at a later date.

The feeling over this was intense and bitter. Ugly charges were raised. Of all the non-Village group, the barn area group alone, decided that as a civic gesture of cooperation, we would ignore the charges, forget the bitterness, and voluntarily annex to the Village.

Our former Village president was delighted at this turn of events; pledged interest in our problems, including the early removal of the barn. "We are your neighbors and certainly have your interest at heart more so than a large and indifferent county" was a favorite statement by many of those directly concerned with the new Village.

Much to our dismay, we were soon "rewarded" for our cooperation. The annexation brought the barn lots inside the Village limits, and outside of County jurisdiction. The Village, via an agreement with the developer, moved in the fire truck and Police car some time after the annexation.

Even then we were not "irate". After all, we still had all the various promises as to the barn removal soon. Our desire was still to be cooperative. Two barn area residents even joined the fire department!!

All major candidates, in the April '61 elections, vowed to do "something about the barn situation" if elected. Our area "irateness", with all of its fury, came only after it became more than clear that no one really intended to do something except to give promises to remove the barn in the far dim and foggy future.

When the only non-Village group, at their own initiative, ask for annexation; and then is so ill-treated by the Village; such treatment can only result in a crushing loss of trust and respect. While the rules of fair play are violated so completely, there simply is no chance of building the type of Village that we Woodridge Village people can be proud of and that we want. The Village's existing approach to problems deprives us the very opportunity to solve our problems in honest and fair ways. Describing all of those who would dare raise their voice in protest as "detractors", and further condemning the ill-fated barn committee for those very actions which circumstances forced on that committee, only adds to the problems.

All this, then, is the deeper tragedy of the Crabtree barn.

Played by the leaders of men.
In voices quite weak
The words that they speak
Have been spoken again and again.

The courage of convictions
Has passed into extinction
Dissenters have faded from view.
Oh, there still are some beefs
Of injustice and griefs
But the voices are weak and too few.

Where are those stout hearted men

The leaders, we don't always cheer?
Persuasive points won
Are coming un-done
Mass disapproval has filled them

TEEN TALK  by Barbara Arnouff

O'Neill explained that he has been advised by authorities to keep the blade 2 to 3 inches off the ground to avoid such breakdowns because of manholes and catch basins. Repairs have been made and the plow is ready to go, he said.

"What most newcomers don't know," O'Neill continued, "is that last year after a heavy snow it was almost impossible to enter or leave Woodridge, with 4 to 12 cars blocking every exit." O'Neill feels his small crew of volunteers has done a good job with the equipment available.

Christmas vacation is over and now we are back to the same old thing, School! Boy, it seems like the time went so fast. I don't know what everyone did to pass the time away but I think most of the boys went sledding and the girls, well, there wasn't much to do. Judy and Doreen tried to go skating and they were doing pretty good until they found out they were skating on snow!

George Nees had a party one Friday during vacation, that was fun. He used his tape-recorder for music.

I know a lot of kids went downtown, Chicago, Christmas shopping and after-Christmas shopping. That's fun if you know your way around and even more fun if you don't. While Nancy and Shirley were down there they met a popular singer. They said they would have gotten to meet some more if they had more time.

Speaking of Chicago, Rich O. came out and stayed at Phil Byl's for most of the vacation. Sue P. was going to go to her girlfriend Roberta's house but I think she was sick so she didn't go.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

Ed. note: The WNR in a effort to stimulate more interest in community affairs will randomly interview various residents of the Woodridge area on topics of general interest. Question: What do you like most and what do you like least about living in Woodridge?

—by Ramona Kinser—

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ruble

When asked what they like most and what they like least about Woodridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ruble of 7630 Sprucewood answered that they dislike the inconvenience of being so far from the shopping district. "In the sales promotion and build-up of the homes here, a shopping center was something that was to have been built in the very near future. We have been here almost a year, and still nothing has been done," said Mr. Ruble.

Both are elementary school teachers, and as such, one of the reasons they bought their home here was the existence of a school. They were happy to see the people of the community taking enough interest in the school to vote in favor of the last two referendums. They hope there will be a kindergarten here by the time their young son is of school age, because they consider it very essential. "But it seems unlikely", lamented Mr. Ruble, "as there are and probably will still be shortages of other classrooms."

Mr. Ruble likes the rolling hills that lend an air of country living and also the small town atmosphere whereby the local people participate in running the government.

"Too many resignations by elected officials indicate they are not giving enough of themselves to their offices," believes Mrs. Ruble. Her husband countered that the community should give elected officials more backing. He further believes that no matter what or where the community, the same groups of people are active in politics because they have the time, the drive, and the interest.

Although some board meetings are not well attended, Mrs. Ruble feels that on the whole participation in community affairs is good.

They are very happy and satisfied.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Di Donna

The Frank DiDonnas of 7660 Walnut like Woodridge because there is plenty of room for their three children. "We're not crowded like in Chicago," said Mr. DiDonna. They like the fact that the community is composed mostly of young couples from approximately the same age bracket and are grateful for their "wonderful neighbors".

Mr. DiDonna feels the Woodridge Athletic Association does a good job for the youngsters and hopes someday to become active in the little league, when he begins to have more time. He looks forward to his son's being a team member.

Both are satisfied with their home, and there is much they plan to do to improve it further. "People complain about the builder", said Mr. DiDonna, "but we have only good words to say about him." They claim they have always been well taken care of.

What they don't like is that there is no Catholic school or church within the village and no near-by shopping facilities. Mrs. DiDonna is part of a car pool that transports children to and from St. Joan of Arc school in Lisle. This, plus travelling so far to shop, is too much of a burden to her says Mr. DiDonna. However, he personally feels there are not enough Catholic families living here at present to start a parish.

Neither is particularly active in politics except for voting, but Mrs. DiDonna feels too many people have a "let the other fellow do it" attitude, and as a result nothing gets done.

Her husband maintains there should be no unincorporated area. It will eventually become part of the village - it should do so now, he believes.

Tattle Tales

by Sue Towner

Well, back to the old grind after the holiday!

There were so many New Years Eve parties, we can't possibly mention them all, so here's hoping everyone had a good time. I know we did!

Catalpa has the unusual distinction of having two sets of twins living, not only on the same block, but directly across the street from one another.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Sauer, 7640 Catalpa, have five year old twins, Jeffery and Jennifer. One year old Laura and David Mullins live at 7639 Catalpa with their parents Bud and Evelyn.

Dec. 21, Rob and Ruth Vondrasek, 7661 Sprucewood, had a rather 'different' kind of party. It was called a "Tom and Jerry" party, but they served egg nog!

STORK NOTES

Rich and Arlene Blanchette, 7638 Deerfield, are the proud parents of a baby son, born Dec. 2. Steven Jonathan weighed 6 lbs. 11 oz.

Margaret and Rich Wehman had a new baby girl, delivered Dec. 20, just in time for Christmas. Erin weighed 6 lbs. 2 oz. The Wehmans reside at 7650 Sprucewood.

Al Olson, chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported that investigation has shown that after the proposed addition of three rooms to the Goodrich building, further additions would be impossible without improving the present septic system. He added that it is expected that the Goodrich building would eventually be expanded to twenty rooms, if and when such expansion becomes necessary.

The board also acted to hire a home tutor for a child confined with rheumatic fever.
