

Geo. Altman Stars At WAA Family Night

Two lucky lads await Cub star George Altman's autograph at the W. A. A.'s "family night". Seated behind the table is John Narducci, manager of W. A. A. boys league team the Yanks.

If there existed any doubt that baseball is the favorite community sport, it was quickly dispelled Oct. 2, when scores of fans of all ages flocked to Woodridge school gym for W. A. A. family night. The appearance of major league star, George Altman, was the big drawing card as well as world series films and the presentation of trophies to little and pony league championship teams and their sponsors.

John Narducci, whose Yankees finished the little league season tied for first place with the Cubs, was master of ceremonies. He introduced managers, Jack Collins of the Cardinals, Jack Moxley of the Braves, Herb Gulbrandsen of the Sox, Ken Salisbury of the Cubs and Joe Rende manager of the pony league team. Praise also went to little league umpires, who were called the unsung heroes of the game.

Commissioner Virgil McPherson awarded trophies to Surety Development Corp., which sponsored the pony league champs; Rochkes Pharmacy, sponsor of the Yankees; and Egizio Chevrolet for backing the Cubs. Gratitude was extended to Carl's Fashion Cleaners and Firestone 500 for their support of the Cardinals and the Braves. George Altman, hard-hitting right fielder of the Chicago Cubs, then presented individual awards to members of the winning teams.

Following films of the 1945 world series between the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers, Altman told the assembly that he liked to appear before little league groups because of the spirit and enthusiasm they display. He called them important factors for winning. The lack of inspirational leadership, he felt, was partly responsible for the more than 100 games lost by the Cubs last year.

The Cubs' right fielder dismissed the glamour of major league baseball saying

A proud trio pose with the trophy won by their Cubs, the WAA boys league co-champ. R. to L. Ken Salisbury, manager, Angelo Egizio of Egizio Chevrolet-Olds, Naperville, who sponsored the Cubs, and Harvey Moe, coach. Equally proud but unable to attend was Don Wrenski of Rochkes Pharmacy, Lisle, who sponsored the Yanks, co-champ with the Cubs. The manager of the Yanks is John Narducci, and Jens Jantzen is the coach. This is the second year in a row that the W. A. A. boys league has ended in a tie. Both teams won 14 games and lost 6.

Altman Comments On Little League And Cubs

BY RAMONA KINSER

Who would have thought when I was a youngster waiting hopefully outside the Wrigley field clubhouse for one of my heroes' autographs that someday I would be interviewing the Cubs' leading hitter for a newspaper! You might call it a reward for being a loyal fan for 17 years. I do.

George Altman is a 6' 4" North Carolina born athlete who broke into organized baseball 6 years ago with the Kansas City Monarchs. He joined the Cubs in 1959 but did not become a regular until 2 years later, leading the team in hitting in '61 with a .303 average and in '62 with .318. This year's average was 6th best in the league.

Altman feels that little league baseball does much to promote the caliber of the big leagues because youngsters get a good background in the fundamentals of the game. Without it, they would be play-

Men's Basketball Begins

The round ball is bouncing again each Thursday night from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Woodridge gym. The somewhat small group that turned out for the first two sessions is reported to have made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in size.

The Thursday night sessions are open to all men beyond high school age. A fee of 25¢ per session is collected to pay for rental of the gym. Everyone is able to play as much as he wishes even with a full crowd, according to reports from last years group.

Village Board Ok's Lights For 75th Street

Magistrate's Pay Also Discussed

At the Oct. 4 meeting, the village board approved installation of four street lights in the village. They are to be located along 75th at Westview, Woodridge, Larchwood and Janes. This involves a financial commitment of $1,512 over a period of 6 years.

In the Building and Zoning Department

Richard J. Walter, 2654 Forest Glen, was appointed building inspector.

A new building ordinance is at present being reviewed by various building officials in the area.

The village board acted on the recommendations of the zoning board and changed the zoning for the Woodridge Woods residential area (parcel 3) from R-1 to R-2 and retained the M-1 designation for the manufacturing area west of rt. 53 (parcels 1 and

A result of the zoning board of appeals action on this request for re-zoning was a recommendation by the appeals board that the side yard requirements be changed from 10' to 10% or 10' whichever is the lesser. The board of trustees directed the attorney to draft an ordinance making this change.

The village attorney, Douglas Comstock, is reviewing the following matters for the village board:

The deeds for the village park, which were submitted by the developer.

The status of the liquor control ordinance.

High School Bond Issue Set For Nov. 17

The Downers Grove high school board of education is asking the voters to approve a bond issue Nov. 17. This bond issue will enable the board to erect a 1500-1700 student building on the site at 63rd and Dunham.

The proposed bond issue will total $4 1/2 million. This includes $4,050,000 for the new building, plus a separate $450,000 for 2 swimming pools (one for each school). This will mean a tax increase of about $1 per thousand of assessed valuation starting with '63 taxes payable in '64. 90¢ would be for the school and 10¢ for the swimming pools.

This would give us a new school ready for the '64 fall term. Currently, 2,600 students are being housed in a building with a rated capacity of nearly 1,900.

Two portable rooms are being used, a study hall was converted into 3 classrooms, and the cafeteria is being used for a study hall. Next year seven additional rooms will be needed with the recommendations being to build another portable and to rent 5 rooms from the Gloria Dei church. By '64 without the new school, half-day sessions would have to be used with the probable curtailment of sports and extra curricular activities. Ultimately, the school would face loss of accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This would mean that graduates would have difficulty getting into accredited colleges.

The board hopes also that the pools will

Police News

Chief Joel Kagann attended a police chiefs' conference held in St. Louis from Oct. 6 through 11, where topics of law enforcement concerning juveniles, the scientific field and new automotive regulations were discussed.

The chief will be a speaker at a training seminar to be conducted by the University of Illinois police training institute Oct. 25 in Westmont.

The final day for bicycle inspection and licensing is scheduled for 9 a. m. Sat., Oct. 27, at Woodridge school. Any bikes operated without licenses after that date will be impounded and tickets issued.

Between Sept. 27 and Oct. 13, the police department is reported to have issued the following summonses: 13 - speeding violations; 1 - parking in no parking zone; 1 - stop sign violation.

A Naperville resident was arrested for driving in violation of license restrictions, having no driver's license, and speeding.

Two men were apprehended for hunting and discharging firearms within the village limits. Police confiscated their firearms.

These cases will be heard by Judge Lester Reiff at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 19 in the village hall.

Police are conducting an investigation of the burglary of 10 electric saws and 2 electric drills valued at $1,400 taken from Surety Builders warehouse on Janes ave.

An anonymous phone call led to the arrest of the parents of 5 children, who were left alone in their home. The father was charged with contributing to the delinquency of children and placed under $500 bond. Charged with child abandonment and contributing to their delinquency, the mother was placed under $2,000 bond. A hearing is set for 10 a. m. Oct. 20 in Downers Grove.

A summary of calls investigated by the department as reported by Chief Kagann follows:

The fire department inhalator was directed to an expectant mother, who was taken to Little Company of Mary hospital in Evergreen Park.

Police helped find a missing child, investigated report of a skunk believed to be dead in the village, and drove an injured woman for medical attention. They also looked into reports of an obscene phone call, dog bite, stray cat, lights on in a vacant house, and gun shots on Crabtree ave. near the school.

posted well in advance of the transmitter, or whole cities are declared for electrically timed speed; 2) No special laws are required to authorize other scientific types of evidence, such as fingerprints, blood tests, and photographs; 3) It is sometimes physically impossible to stop all wrongdoers.

One of the principal challenges growing out of the use of radar is that the officer picked the wrong car. On this point the training and reputation for integrity of the police officer is all important.

Radar is an acronym for radio detection and ranging. It is the name applied to both the technique and the equipment.

There are three different units to radar--the meter on which the reading is shown; an amplifier and power supply unit; and the antenna head. The antenna head is actually the transmitter and can be placed in the back of the car or outside pointing toward the direction in which speed is to be determined. The amplifier is put in back and the meter is stationed next to the officer.

The basic principle involved is the Doppler principle, which involves sound waves or signals that vibrate so many times per second. As the vibrating sound waves of a moving object approach a fixed object, the vibrations reflect back increasing in total. As the moving object passes away from the stationary object, the rate of vibrations per second decreases.

In radar, the transmitter (antenna head) sends out a certain number of vibrations per second (frequency). Moving objects will reflect a signal back to the head which will be greater if it is moving toward the head and lesser if moving away. The difference between the number of vibrations sent out by the radar transmitter and the number reflected back by a moving vehicle is directly proportional to the speed at which the vehicle is traveling.

In the type of radar used today, the difference in vibrations for a vehicle traveling 10 mph is 310 per second; at 30 mph the difference is 3,100 vibrations per second.

No legal means are available to affect the accuracy of radar. A high-powered broad band transmitter in a car will throw a radar reading off, but the carrying of such equipment is punishable by imprisonment up to 3 years.

Radar is considered a very effective technique for detecting speeders and because of its ability to account for multiple arrests should prove a deterrent to speeding.

Go Kart Rules Told

The Woodridge police department has received several complaints in the past week about 'Go Karts'.

Illinois Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier has recently ruled that 'Go Karts' must be licensed under the requirements of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic. He further stated that in order to license the 'karts' it is necessary to have brakes on all wheels, front lights visible at a distance of 5 hundred feet, rear lights visible at 5 hundred feet and signal devices for indicating turns. He also pointed out that the driver of the 'go karts' must meet the requirements of the Drivers License Act and must be of 16 years of age and have in his or her possession a valid operators license.

Police Chief Kagann has issued instructions to the police officers to arrest violators of the preceding requirements.

ing unsupervised in an empty lot not properly laid out for the sport.

Little league ball, he said, gives the players an opportunity to express themselves, to work with others and to become a good sport. "A boy has a chance to develop physically faster", the big slugger continued, "because he is in competition and must work to improve himself."

One of my questions concerned the behavior of spectators and whether he felt decisions by little league umpires should be accepted without protest. He replied that parents and interested spectators have an obligation to set an example of fair play to the little leaguers. Their attitude should reflect that participation and how one plays is more important than who wins or loses.

About the Cubs' multiple coaching system, Altman said developing it fully might take more time than any organization would be willing to spend. He believes the newness of the system puts a team at a slight disadvantage and that it would be used as a scapegoat if all did not go well. This could cause a team to feel sorry for itself. It would be a good plan for the minors, he added.

Despite all the talent on the Cubs, Altman explains the team's poor showing as the lack of "jelling as a team". To bring about this jelling takes "inspirational leadership" with the leader having confidence in the team's ability to do the job and the players' mutual confidence in the leader.

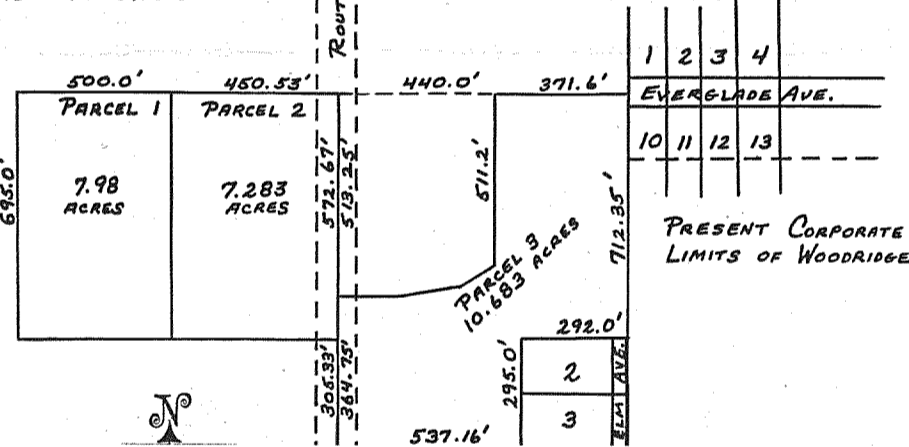

Altman concluded that "whether the Cubs' present coaching staff will be able to develop this confidence remains to be seen".

Absentee Ballots

Absentee ballots for the Nov. 17 police magistrate election will be available from the village clerk beginning Oct. 19 but no later than Nov. 12 if application is made by mail and Nov. 14 if application is made in person. Residency requirements for voting in this election are 1 year in the state, 90 days in DuPage county and 30 days in the village of Woodridge. It is not necessary to be a registered voter to vote in this election.

D.G.H.S Journal

BY LYNN HONDLIK

On Oct. 17, a potluck was held for the band-orchestra parents.

A vocal concert will be held in the auditorium of DGHS at 7:30 PM Oct. 25.

The excitement of the class rings is finally dying down. Juniors received their rings Sept. 28, and since then there has been a constant buzzing in the halls and a continuous whispering in classes.

Our varsity football team has been really doing well this season. DGHS defeated Glenbard West, Sept. 28, 31-12. Our frosh-soph hasn't been doing quite as well as the varsity. They lost to Glenbard 6-14.

The homecoming weekend began Thurs. night, Oct. 4, with the pep rally and the bon-fire. Friday night, Oct. 5, our football team played Arlington. The results of the game were: varsity 6, Arlington 2; and frosh-soph 7, Arlington 19.

In football for the up-coming weeks DGHS will play Hinsdale at their school Sat., Oct. 20, at noon. On Oct. 26 at 6 PM, York will challenge DGHS at the DGHS football field.

The homecoming king, queen, and attendants were: freshman, Linda Schultz; sophomore, Sandra Wolfe; junior, Cheryl Hoppe. King was Fred Lester and Marilyn Bussey was chosen queen.

Oct. 15 was the DGHS students first day off from school. I hope everyone enjoyed it thoroughly!

4-H News

by Willard Bredfield, Jr.

Our last meeting was held Oct. 9.

Four prospective members were present. Plans were made for the Nov. meeting, which will be the club's second annual achievement night. This is the night all members completing their year's work receive awards from the county, state and 4-H leaders.

The club is now having a fund raising campaign. We are selling a spray bandage called Quick-Care. Anyone that is interested in buying it and has not been contacted by a member may call the 4-H leader.

Next meeting, achievement night, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the Woodridge school gym.

WAA States Policy

The board of trustees of the Woodridge Athletic Association passed a resolution at the Oct. 9 meeting stating that the responsibility of the WAA board is to be confined to baseball and raising funds for activities. Other activities, if approved, will be sponsored and financed by the organization, but administration and labor of these projects must be furnished by the interested group or individual.

The resolution was adopted as a result of lack of interest on the part of the community in sharing the responsibility and labor necessary to provide the activities. The board feels that the WAA cannot handle projects provided in the past without more community help. The ice rink was a case in point. Bill Miller, 2939 Forest Glen, has agreed to manage the ice rink, its operation and maintenance for the coming year. Those individuals interested in having and using an ice rink this winter, please contact him. No plans will be made for ping-pong tournaments until an organizing group is found.

Plan Theater Group

Shakespeare made all the world a stage. Thespian Norm Dickson would like to see that Woodridge has its fair share of theater. Dickson, who lives at 2568 Forest Glen, is interested in starting a theater group and shares this interest with Bob Jensen, director of the library committee play, and Bill Law, an actor in that same play. Norm also worked in that play on the lighting.

Dickson said that they would like anyone interested in any way in theater for Woodridge to contact him at Wo9-5353.

For the shy ones he pointed out that there are about twice as many back stage jobs.

"Books and Crooks", a comedy, is being considered for a first play.

Tattle Tales

by CAROLYN REDMOND

Sharon Albee, 2946 Jonquil N., is expecting (1) her mother in from Kansas and then (2) the stork in that order. Mothers are wonderful people to have around when babies come, as this gal (your tattler) knows. My mother flew in from Boston, the city of baked beans, Beacon Hill, fish and Kennedys.

Kate Lipuma of Missouri, formerly of Woodridge, was here in the village for a very short time. She was sorry she didn't get to see everyone and misses the people and the village.

Say, how many of you love picnics? Well, the Woodridge Woods, right here in the village, would be a wonderful spot to get away for a little bit. The best way to get into them is from Everglade going west.

Louise Schneider, 2920 Everglade, was having a marvelous time with the F. P. O. A. (Future Paratroopers of America). Seems as if they (Louise and several youngsters) were trying to get a parachute off the ground, but the wind wasn't with them. It would get just so far and then plop. Better luck next time.

Carolyn Shroka, 3021 Everglade, has a brother that is training in New York to go to Nigeria to work in the Peace Corps for four years. Carolyn must be very proud of him. I think it takes a really selfless person to do what he is doing.

Welcome home Shirley and Vic Oldenburg, 2756 Forest Glen. They are back in the village after fire damaged their home.

Willia and Art Ward, 7830 Catalpa, had a weekend guest, Mrs. Richard Oetzer of Peotone, Ill., Willia's mother. I understand they also had a clan gathering Oct. 7. Patty, Vickie, and Mary Jane, the Wards' children, were really a big help to mother.

Betty Oakes, Loretta Rummfeldt and Pat Vicencio all of Deerfield had a merry, merry time Oct. 5, when they went to see "Mary, Mary," preceded by dinner. Sounds lovely.

Jean Martin had several of the neighborhood children in for lunch the other day. The menu reads like something out of a child gourmet's dream - potato chips, cup cakes, hot dogs, chocolate milk, candy cups and suckers.

STORK NOTES

Ruth and Nick Lung of Walnut had a boy! Nicholas John was born Oct. 4 at Hinsdale hospital. Nicholas is the Lung's first child. Ruth and Nick are W. N. R. staffers.

Rosemary and Ed Mabrey of Crabtree are the parents of a boy, Kevin Paul. He weighed 8# 2 oz. The Mabreys have three children, Frank, 11, Virginia, 9, and Mike, 7. Rosemary says, "Much thanks to Pat Bertrand and volunteer fireman Rummfeldt and Jim Kinser who were there when needed!"

Ron and Sue Geils of Crabtree have a baby girl, Roxanne Elizabeth. She weighed 9# 10 oz. at birth and was born at Mc Neil hospital. Ron and Sue have three other children - Robert, Debbie, and Linda.

Sally and Lee Radke, 4711 Woodward ave., in Downers Grove have a new son, Gary Robert. He was born at St. Charles hospital Sept. 17. Sally and Lee have three other children, Billy, Paul and Janet. The Radkes were some of Woodridge's first residents, and Sally was the first village clerk.

WELCOME NEWCOMERS

Carl and Sheila Jarsenbeck, 7825 Deerfield. They have one son, Lane who is 2 1/2 years old. The Jarsenbecks made their home in Oak Park before coming to Woodridge.

Elsie and Stan Breedlove, 7806 Deerfield. They have four children - Mary Sue, 16, Buddy, 15, Beverly, 9 and Michael, 8. The Breedloves lived in Chicago before coming to the Village.

Kay and Bruce Olson, 7807 Deerfield, and their two children Daryl Scott, 2 and Cynthia Dawn, 1. The Olsons are from Chicago.

Loretta and Tom Walton, 7803 Chestnut, and their two children Trisha, 4 and Tommy, 2. The Waltons hale from La Grange.

Lynn and Jim Volpe, 7634 Deerfield, and their children Janet, 7, Jimmy, 5 and Julie, 4. The Volpes made their home in Cicero before coming to Woodridge.

GET WELL TO:

Carolyn Wiggins, 3017 Crabtree, was in the hospital for surgery.

Priscilla Akers, 3029 Crabtree is ill.

All of you - and I hear there are quite a few - on Larchwood Lane who have the flu and pneumonia.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU

Lucia Ann Walton, 7803 Chestnut, who was 4 Oct. 5. She got a dolly for her birthday.

Bobby Bell of 7664 Walnut had a birthday party Oct. 8. Bobby is 4.

George Campise of Woodridge Dr. was 5 years old Sun. Oct. 7.

Bette Smale of Deerfield had a coffee for all the new gals in her neighborhood. It was sort of a "getting to know you time". Bette is a "pioneer" of that new unit, I think she's lived here a month.

Ruth Lung of Walnut was given a baby shower Sept. 27. Fran Lins of Walnut was the hostess. The guests were from Woodridge, Lisle, and Wheaton.

'It's No Trick There's A Treat In Store

There may not be any goblins haunting the streets Halloween night. If Woodridge-ites are lucky, the goblins will all be gathered at the Woodridge school gym from 7 to 10 p.m. Oct. 31 for an evening of entertainment, games, fun and dancing planned and presented by the Woodridge Teen Club.

Witches, black cats, skeletons and others of that eerie ilk will vie for prizes for the cleverest disguises, although costumes are optional.

Invitations to the party, which the Woodridge police department is sponsoring in an effort to keep children off the street that evening, are extended to 7th graders on up. Admission is free, but refreshments will be sold. The help of parents is being sought to serve as chaperones and to handle others details of the party. Volunteers are asked to contact the police chief.

Family Night

It is a tough, competitive business where confidence in self and one's ability is all important. He cautioned the boys to heed their coaches and to take good care of their bodies so they will be physically alert and able.

Altman then fielded, deftly and with much humor, questions tossed to him from the audience and signed autographs for his many fans.

The evening concluded with movies of the Chicago White Sox-Los Angeles Dodgers world series of 1959.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank Father Kloefer, St. Scholastica Womens Club and Mens Club for their kind expression of sympathy, Masses and recitations of the rosary during my recent bereavement.

nance. At the Oct. meeting, Trustee Walter Larson said that the ordinance had been drawn up several months ago and that at that time Comstock had submitted some copies to the trustees for review. Larson said he wanted to know what happened to the ordinance. The board decided, then, to ask the attorney to find out for them.

Another matter being checked by the village attorney is a salary for the police magistrate.

Comstock explained that a decision about a salary must be made before the magistrate election and that any salary set now would have to remain unchanged until the next general election unless the police magistrate resigns. The dilemma is that the village officials have practically a tradition of all the work of village government being done by volunteers. The financial situation in small villages without business and industry is such that there is no other practical way. On the other hand Woodridge is growing so fast that sometime short of the next general elections, the office of the police magistrate could be almost a full time job. This problem affects other elected offices in that the jobs are ever-increasing in size. However, salaries for other elected officials are established each year at the beginning of the village fiscal year.

Some of the trustees feel that a substantial salary should be set - others feel that the financial picture is such that though they would like to pay a salary, it wouldn't be a sound move financially. The attorney is going to look into this further.

Trustee Larson who refrained from commenting because he is a candidate said that he would like to make a statement, and that was "We all put our names in the hat. We weren't particularly interested in salary at that time and expected no salary. I am sure that in this particular case I speak for the other candidates, too."

Larson said later that he had been questioned about his being a village trustee. He said that he would like to make it clear that he would have to resign as village trustee if elected police magistrate.

be approved because of their value to students and area residents. Besides swimming classes, there would be life saving instruction and recreational swimming for all in the area.

Mothers Club To Hold Bake Sale

The Mothers Club of Woodridge school will hold a bake sale Wed., Oct. 24, in the Woodridge school gym. This year's event will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. so that all mothers will have an opportunity to purchase "home baked goodies."

Profits from these bake sales help purchase equipment for the school.

Pies, cakes, candy, bread, rolls, sweet rolls, coffee cakes, cookies and cup cakes are welcome. The board of health rules prohibit anything with cream or custard filling and require all baked goods to be covered with wax paper or Saran Wrap.

The committee in charge would like to receive all baked goods at the school Oct. 24 either between 3 and 4 in the afternoon or from 6 to 6:30 in the evening. This will give the committee time to label and price the goods before the sale starts.

If you are unable to deliver your baked goods, you can phone Mrs. Marge Groth, Wo9-7373 or Mrs. Chenzie Narducci, Wo9-5163.

Free coffee will be served. Candy bars and taffy apples will be available for the children.

Membership chairman Barb Bonk announces there will be a membership contest between the rooms starting Oct. 16, and lasting through Nov. 26. Interest forms will be sent home with the children. Envelopes should be marked "Membership" and put in a box provided in the child's room. Parents with more than one child in school should list their names and teachers so that all may receive credit. The room with the largest number of memberships on a percentage basis will receive a $5.00 prize to be used for the purchase of something for the room.

Firemen will have turkeys available again this year and they would appreciate everyone's help.

School Board Thanks

Referendum Workers

The school board wishes to thank the citizens who worked diligently to pass the recent $.21 educational tax referendum. While the referendum failed by 22 votes, their efforts were sincerely appreciated.

Failure of this referendum has caused the board to cut even further a very stringent budget in order to keep solvent. This will adversely affect some of the services of the school. Every effort was made to retain those services directly related to basic education.

This reduction in service was made regretfully. However, in view of the financial situation, there was little choice.
