Surety Plans Village Lease Cancellations

Albert Kaufman, president of Surety Builders, announced late Saturday that he will not renew the leases on the Woodridge village hall, 2909 Forest Glen and the barn on Crabtree ave. in which the fire truck and the village public works equipment are housed. Kaufman said that his decision to take the action was prompted by the newly-elected village board's refusal to meet with him at a scheduled 1 p.m. meeting Apr. 27. Kaufman said that when he arrived at the village hall at 1 p.m., the board had left the message with President Roberts that they would not meet with Kaufman on any subject until "the problem of public lands is solved." Kaufman said that the meeting was scheduled in order that he might explain to the new board the reasons for the changes he had requested in the subdivision control ordinance for the building he proposes in units 5 and 6. He said that he wanted the board to have a clear understanding of the proposed changes at the time of the Apr. 29 public hearing.

New Trustees Sworn In

The newly elected village clerk, Faye Hoffman, and 5 duly elected trustees, David Callahan, James Kinser, Edward Redmond, Walter Hansen and Marvin Wiggins individually took the oath of office at the swearing-in ceremonies Apr. 23 at the village hall. Walter Larson, Woodridge police magistrate, administered the following oath:

"I, . . . (name), having been elected to the office of village . . . (clerk or trustee) in the village of Woodridge, in the county of DuPage, aforesaid, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the state of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of village . . . (clerk or trustee) according to the best of my ability."

The clerk and trustees then were welcomed officially by President William Roberts to their new positions as officials of the village of Woodridge.

Larson, in a pre-oath administering speech, emphasized the importance of independent thought and strength of individual convictions of public officials.

After the oaths were administered, Roberts introduced the rest of the village officials to the new trustees. He then conducted the new officials on a tour of the village hall.

Cancer Drive Rescheduled

Edward Goluch, chairman of the Woodridge chapter of the American Cancer Society, made the following plea in conjunction with their annual drive which begins in the village the week of May 5.

"The cancer drive in Woodridge was postponed so that everyone could concentrate on the recent election. Now that the election is behind us, let's band together to eradicate this dread disease.

There is no disease, no malady, that strikes as much fear to the hearts of people as the fear or knowledge of CANCER. Most fear is caused by the unknown. If people knew that many have been cured of cancer and that the percentage of arrest and cure of cancer noticed and treated in its early stages is very high, there would be less fear.

'To Cure More, Give More' - Cancer can be cured and eventually may be eradicated--But, it cannot and will not be eradicated unless we do everything in our power to fight it.

Just because we may not have Cancer now, does not mean that it isn't our fight. We could get it later; our loved ones, parents, children, spouse or friends could be unfortunate and contract it. Join the Crusade. Fight Cancer with a checkup and a Check."

The public lands problem the board referred to is the area that has been designated as a park between Jonquil and Crabtree. Kaufman said that several months ago, the property was deeded to the village, but that it has not yet been transferred on the county records because of delinquent taxes. The area in question has been available to the village at any time since 1960, he said, but the village did not take the action to have the deed transferred to its name until recently, and was then confronted with the tax delinquency. Action has been stalled since that time.

Resident Mourns Friends on Sub

To Paul Furio, 2915 Forest Glen parkway, the loss of the U. S. Navy's nuclear-powered submarine was not only a national disaster but a personal tragedy. Twenty-four of the 129 men who perished in the "Thresher's" ill-fated test dive were friends and students of Furio's when he was electrical division officer in the Navy's nuclear propulsion training unit.

Among the officers aboard the missing sub was one who had been a shipmate of Furio's during the twenty years he spent in submarine service before his retirement from the Navy.

When asked for his opinion as to the possible cause of the disaster, Furio said: "Thresher was just out of the Navy yard where she had been overhauled, so it's hard to say what went wrong; it could have been anything. At least no one suffered; with the tremendous pressure at that depth it was all over fast-like folding up a paper bag."

Clerk Announces New Hours

The newly-elected village clerk, Mrs. Faye Hoffman, announces the new office hours for the village. Village business can be transacted at the hall, 2909 Forest Glen, Tuesdays, 7-9 p.m., Thursdays, 1-4 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Assisting Mrs. Hoffman with the duties of village clerk will be Mrs. Ramona Kinser who was sworn in as deputy village clerk Apr. 24. Mrs. Kinser's husband is the recently-elected village trustee, James W. Kinser. She has been active in the community particularly in the Mothers Club and the Woodridge News Review. For more than a year she provided the community with interesting features and good news reporting for the WNR. Recently she has been a staff correspondent for the Lisle Advertiser, Lisle. The Kinser's reside at 7658 Deerfield with their four children, Bridget, Paula, Danny and Jamie.

The Illinois Commerce Commission hearing of Apr. 11 involving the village of Woodridge, the Woodridge Sewer & Water Co. and the Winston-Muss Corp. resulted in a continuation to May 6 at 10 a.m. The village was represented by the village attorney,

Dahlberg, Redfield Retain Posts

At the Apr. 15 meeting, the grade school district 68 board of education re-elected John O. Dahlberg, Brenwood Estates, Hobson rd., as board president. He was first elected to the school board in '60 and was elected president in '62. Dahlberg, whose term expired this year, was re-elected to the board position in the Apr. 13 election.

Mrs. Olga Redfield, 3037 Jonquil ln. N., Woodridge, elected to the board last year, was re-elected as secretary.

The elections took place after a canvass of the votes of the Apr. 13 election. The un-official returns were verified showing that Dahlberg and Alfred S. Olsen, 2641 Hobson rd., Downers Grove, were re-elected for their second three year terms. Arthur Thuerk, 2565 Crabtree, Woodridge, was elected to a 3 year term and Charles M. Smeeth, Donwood dr., Naperville was elected to fill a one year vacancy. The other 2 board members are Ned Hill and Lewis Benckendorf, both of Woodridge.

Other board action included the drawing up of contracts in anticipation of hiring 2 principals. The Goodrich principal will serve as 1/2 time curriculum coordinator and 1/2 time principal. The 20 room Woodridge school will require a full time principal.

Garden Club To Tour Warehouse

On May 9 the Garden Club will take another excursion. The members will be going to the Kroger Co. Warehouse in Northlake where James Robinson, of 7631 Walnut, warehouse foreman, will conduct a tour through the warehouse and show how foods are brought in and stored. Later a film will be shown on the growing, harvesting and shipping of bananas in one of the conference rooms. The business meeting will also be held there. Election of new officers for the 1963-64 year will be on the agenda.

Refreshments will be served later in the company cafeteria. Members and their guests are asked to meet promptly at 7:15 p.m. in front of the Robinson home so that the group will arrive at the orney, Douglas Comstock. To be resolved is whether the Lisle Utility Co. can serve the Winston Hills area should the area become a part of the village. In 1960 the village of Woodridge gave a franchise to the Woodridge Sewer & Water Co. granting them the exclusive right to operate a water company for the area in the present and future boundaries of the village.

Jan. 15 a certificate of convenience and necessity was granted to the Lisle Utility Co. to provide water to Winston Park Estates known now as the Winston Hills area. The attorneys for the Woodridge Sewer and Water Co. have filed an intervening petition showing objection. According to the Illinois Commerce Commission, the decision as to who can serve the area after annexation is to be rendered by the commission.

Other hearings involving the Woodridge Sewer & Water Co. concern the Stads Construction Company's request for service for the area south of Everglade known as Anderson's farm.

A series of continuations have not resulted in a definite settlement. Negotiations reached the discussion of hook-on fees at which point a statement resulted.

The Stads Construction Co. plans to develop 41 acres with 110 homes in the $19,000 to $21,000 price range. The Winston Hills development is for 565 acres with an estimated capacity of 2,000 families in homes ranging from $18,500 to $23,500.

WAA To Show '62 Series Film

Ed Gilbert, WAA baseball commissioner, has arranged for the showing of the 1962 world series film between the Yankees and the Giants tomorrow night at the Woodridge Athletic Association's dads and sons night at 7:30 p.m. at Woodridge school. The public is invited. In addition to the series film, Gilbert has obtained a movie on baseball fundamentals, "Baseball for Millions," produced by Wilson Sporting Goods and General Mills. If available, a new feature titled, "Hitting Tips by Ted Williams," and produced by Sears, Roebuck & Co., will also be shown.

The evening is a prelude to the beginning of the baseball season. On May 19, the season will be opened officially with a parade followed by a ceremony at the athletic field. Two games will then be played. Beginning at 2 p.m., "500" Tire's Braves will play Rochke's Yanks. The second game will be Fashion Cleaner's Cards vs. Egizio Chevrolet's Cubs. The fifth team in the league is George's Dairy's Sox. Minor league is sponsored this year by Service Master.

EDITORIAL

We congratulate the new village officials and hope now that the election is over, the people in the community will unite to work for the common good of all. From the beginning Woodridge has been divided for the most part into two groups, those who seemingly were content to let the village develop along preconceived lines and those who felt growth should be guided primarily by the people themselves. Because Woodridge is relatively small, this division not only affected political relationships but social relationships as well.

The original village board back in 1959, which was representative of the 1st group, was for the most part inexperienced in the affairs of village government and consequently was easily influenced by special interests as far as growth and development of the village were concerned. As time passed with a parade of new trustees taking office because of expired terms and resignations, the board as a whole became more sophisticated and independent, as partly evidenced by the passage of the zoning and subdivision control ordinances, including rescinding of the plat for Woodridge Woods #2 for non-compliance with the subdivision control ordinance. This latter group of trustees were the candidates for the Woodridge Independent Party in the recent election.

The Citizens Action Party was for the most part composed of people who represented the other group. They felt there was still too much external control over the affairs of the village and that the village board was not promoting necessary community improvements quickly enough.

We suspect that by election time the two parties were really not as far apart as it seemed, except possibly in their approach to solving some of the community problems.

Now that all the Citizens Action Party candidates have won in the election, they have a chance to put their theories into practice, although they will be somewhat handicapped at first because of a lack of experience.

The future of the community is in their hands; we wish them well and hope the rest of the community will work with them and the other village officials for the good of Woodridge.

Now is the time to forget the past.

park, had $199.90 due in back taxes for 1960 and 1961. The taxes for 1962 are $98.68. The unpaid taxes for '60 and '61 have been purchased by a private citizen. The last quarter for redeeming the property began Apr. 26. If the taxes are not paid in this period by the Trust 1089 and 1090, Elmhurst National Bank, the purchaser of the unpaid taxes can obtain the property.

The leases on the hall and the barn are on a 30 day basis, said Kaufman. Presently, the village pays $1 per year rental for the barn, and $95 per month rental for the village hall. An agreement with the village and Kaufman states that on termination of the lease, the village hall must be restored to its original condition. The hall was one of the original model homes.

Kaufman indicated at the time the paper went to press that a registered letter informing the board of the cancellation of the leases would be mailed Mon. Apr. 29. Regarding the refusal of the board to meet with him, Kaufman said: "I will not be bludgeoned. I am willing to meet and discuss any problems for the betterment and improvement of Woodridge. However, I expect to be treated fairly; I expect to be treated like a gentleman."

The village will have until June 1 to vacate and restore the buildings at their expense.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

"Hats off" to the WNR for their efforts to nip blight in Woodridge. It's too bad you didn't enlarge the Woody Woodridge cartoon and put it on the front page. I hope this is the start of a long campaign on this subject. Woodridge needs it!

I suggest you also focus your sights on those who leave their garbage cans at the curb for days after the garbage has been picked up.
Keep up the good work.

Name Withheld By Request

Dear Editor:

It's a good idea for you to print the pictures of those cars. Too many people in Woodridge don't care what their house and lot looks like. But I see other worse cars around, and some houses with three cars.

Keep up the good work and show more pictures and maybe people will wake up.

Name Withheld By Request

Dear Editor:

The campaign and the election are over--the first election in Woodridge that saw opposing parties. Thomas Jefferson, the first president elected by party organization and campaigning, had similar thoughts as many of us now do in Woodridge. In his inaugural address he spoke, in part, to the previous "contest of opinion" and stated-- "but this being now decided by the voice of the nation, announced according to the rules of the Constitution, all will, of course, arrange themselves under the will of the law and unite in common efforts for the common good".

I hope the Village will now see common effort, continuing interest in common problems, constructive criticism, if needed, and standing room only at all meetings of the Village Board.

NRA Certifies White VFW Begins Reorganization

WASHINGTON, D. C. ---John T. White of Woodridge, Illinois, has been appointed a certified rifle instructor, it was announced here today by the National Rifle Association of America.

The new top ranked instructor passed a specified series of tests and served a prescribed period of time in training activities before receiving certification. He is now qualified to conduct classes in gun operation, safe gun-handling, and techniques of shooting on the target range and in the field to all interested members of his community.

Mr. White joins the ranks of selected personnel which the NRA maintains throughout the country in a nation-wide small-arms education program. The program has been in operation since 1876, and since that time millions of people have been taught to handle and enjoy firearms safely.

Odds And Ends By M. T. Wiggins

The principal purpose of family games is to relax and have fun, of course. However, such games have educational value often overlooked.

From games, children learn lessons in manual dexterity, control, discipline, organization, judgment, pattern recognition and precision. They also learn, with proper direction, to be gracious winners and good losers.

While baseball probably leads the list as a game to develop many physical skills, even the lowly game of tiddley-winks teaches good aim and manual control. Pick-up sticks requires dexterity, control and mental concentration. Games such as "Fascination" can develop a good sense of timing in even the very young.

A well played game of checkers is a rich study in precision. Chess--correctly played-- is a game of organization. Japanese Go - the queen of all board games teaches pattern recognition, cleverness; and the value of experience.

We have only scratched the surface. We can talk of games that teach partnership and cooperation, for example.

Studies have shown that children growing up in families where family games are regularly played are better disciplined and happier. They usually do better in school.

Rifle Club Joins Association

Interest in the Woodridge Rifle Club remains high, and after writing their by-laws and electing officers, the group has now joined the National Rifle Association. Membership in the N. R. A. entitles the 15 members to receive periodic publications from the organization, individual membership cards, membership arm patches, a small bore rifle handbook and will entitle members to eventually shoot in N. R. A. sanctioned matches.

Jack White, advisor and supervisor of the group, stated that the actual submission of the N. R. A. charter will be held up pending commitment of target range facilities and sponsorship of the club by a civic organization.

One of the purposes of the W. R. C. is to teach the basic fundamentals of marksmanship, of which safety is the prime factor, and White went on to renew an invitation to all interested teenagers to contact him at 964-0809.

In tennis Downers will go to the district on Sat. On the 7th, Downers Grove will visit York, and on the 9th, Glenbard West.

York will come to Downers on May 7 in outdoor track. On the 11th, Downers will compete in the district meet.

St. Scholastica

St. Scholastica parishioners, many of whom participated in the drive for the St. Joan of Arc convent before the establishment of the new parish, will be interested to know that the convent for the 12 Benedictine Sisters for St. Joan of Arc school, Lisle, was blessed at 3 p. m. The two-story brick building will accommodate 16 Sisters. Its chapel is circular shaped. Exterior brick is red to match St. Joan school, according to Sister M. Benita, O.S.B., principal.

Open house for the new convent will take place in May because of difficulties with present road construction.

Following the convent blessing, some 151 parishioners were confirmed by Bishop Raymond Lane, M. M. at 3:15 in St. Joan church. The Reverend Frederic Beller, O.S.B., is pastor.

The St. Scholastica youth club will meet Fri., May 10, in the lower classroom at 8 p. m. Recent events included an evening of fun on Apr. 19, attendance at a party sponsored by St. Joseph's teen club on Apr. 21 and a business meeting on Apr. 26 at which plans for a scavenger hunt were discussed.

Communion Sunday for the members will be May 5 at the 8 o'clock Mass.

On Sun., May 5, there will be a bake sale in the first grade classroom after all the Masses. All of the women of the parish are asked to bake for this event.

Brownie Troop 701 Report on Ice Cream Factory Trip -

The following letters were among several submitted by members of Brownie troop 701 as a report on their recent ice cream factory trip. Several Woodridge mothers accompanied the girls.

"Last Monday, Apr. 15, the Brownies of Woodridge went to the Cock Robin Ice Cream Plant. We saw how the ice cream is made and where it is kept. We also saw how it is put into boxes. When we were there, they were making green lime ice cream. Afterwards we got to pick out the kind we wanted. I think that we should thank the mothers who were kind enough to drive us there and back." - by Lori Slater

"The Brownies from Woodridge troops 701, 133, 157 went to Cock Robin Ice Cream Plant, Mon., Apr. 15. We saw them make lime sherbet. We saw the freezing room where it was 20° below zero. We didn't want to go in so we back tracked. We got a sample on the way out. They had many flavors such as chocolate, peppermint, strawberry, etc. It was fun and very interesting, especially the sample." - by Kathy Bullock

"Troops 107, 133, and 157 went to the ice cream plant, Monday, Apr. 15, at 1:00. We saw many interesting things. We saw them put ice cream in boxes with a machine. They have a lot of machines. They have a room that is over 100° below zero. They said that humans could die in there unless they were wrapped in lots of furs. We saw them make ice cream and many other interesting things." - by Phyllis Nottelmann

POLICE NEWS

Chief Joel Kagann reports that numerous calls have been received reporting prowlers and peeping toms in Woodridge. In every instance, however, the calls were received on the following day or several hours after the occurrence. Chief Kagann stresses that in order to apprehend these prowlers it is of the utmost importance that residents cooperate and call the police immediately. He would also like to remind villagers to beware of high pressure hawkers in the area. "Be certain to ask to see the license of any salesman coming to your door and report any violations to your police department," he cautioned.

On Apr. 22 Kimberly Lowry, 1 1/2, 7616 Woodridge, was taken to Edwards hospital by Woodridge Police. Three stitches were needed to close a cut in the mouth received when she fell and struck a table in her living room. Other injured child reports were received from Woodridge school on Apr. 22 when Fred Goetz, 7629 Sprucewood, was injured while playing in the gym and on Apr. 11 when Danny Collins, 7729 Westview, was injured at the school.

A village resident was charged with assault and battery, resisting a police officer and speeding, while a police officer was attempting to serve a warrant. The resident's wife was also charged with interfering with a police officer making an arrest.

Malicious mischief complaints were received when a police officer's car was sprayed with silver paint and when a broken window and damaged bicycle rack were reported at the Woodridge school.

A lost child was recovered on Apr. 12 and another resident reported that his 4 1/2 yr. old daughter had been bitten by a dog. The animal was impounded. Another dog bite was reported Apr. 10 when James Wainer, 3405 McCormick, Brookfield, an employee of the gas company was bitten on the lower leg. 2 stray dogs reports were received and a summons issued.

On Apr. 11 a resident on Everglade reported receiving annoying telephone calls. The information was turned over to the telephone company.

Miscellaneous complaints received during the period included a missing bicycle which was subsequently recovered, a lost license plate, a disturbance on Deerfield and noisy cats in a garage. Complaints were received regarding children playing on a trailer at 75th and Janes.

Library Committee Reports

During the past few months the library development committee has intensified its efforts to provide local library service for Woodridge. With funds derived from community projects, the committee has purchased books and the materials necessary for the operation of a library.

Delays were encountered in obtaining materials, and it became apparent that an early opening date was impossible. Most of the donated books had to be labeled giving the necessary credit to the donor. Each book was listed to facilitate ordering printed sets of catalog cards. (To date 192 sets have been purchased at a cost of 10¢ per set.) The 800 or more remaining books must be catalogued by the committee. These books need an absolute minimum of three typed catalog cards each, one author entry, one title entry and one shelf list card. If a book covers many subjects, has more than one author, or is a part of a series, as many as 5 to 10 catalog cards may be required.

The shelf list (which is a separate file used by the librarian) is prepared for the purpose of keeping an accurate record of how many copies the library has of each book, how each copy is acquired, is used for inventory for insurance purposes and in the preparation of the annual report which must be prepared for the state and the village board. The shelf list is kept in the order that the books are actually arranged on the shelves so that it may also serve as a bibliography or reading list on a specific subject and can easily show how many books on a given subject the library owns.

Each book must contain a "book card" (the card that the librarian removes from the book when it's checked out) and these too must be typed. Pockets have been pasted in most of the books and about half of the cataloging and book cards have been completed.

Some books must be scanned very carefully before a Dewey call number can be assigned because very often the title and table of contents don't sufficiently reveal the content of the book or the intent of the author. After the number has been assigned, the book must be marked and shelled. Decisions determining whether a book should be used by children, junior

Law Day Proclaimed

Woodridge participated in Law Day USA May 1 by virtue of a proclamation by the president of the village, William Roberts. In the proclamation he urged that the flag be displayed "in token of our dedication to government under law." The proclamation was in support of the joint resolution of the United States Congress and the proclamation of the President of the United States and the DuPage County Bar Association proclaiming May 1, 1963 as Law Day USA.

high, young adults, or adults must be made. Hours are spent on alphabetizing and filing.

The village board purchased the materials necessary for the physical construction of the library room - which was the room occupied by the building commissioner - in the village hall. Space was provided in the basement for the building commissioner's office. Trustees Bob Murphy and Al Zettler and officer Jerry Szczepaniak have been constructing the nearly completed shelves.

Donations of books are still welcomed by the library committee, especially children's books. Although the present collection of children's books is rather small, it is hoped that the state book-mobile service can supplement our collection as soon as possible after the library is opened.

Folks used to say we'll pay you a penny for your thoughts. Now it costs $25 an hour to get a psychiatrist to listen to them.

SAVE YOUR LIFE

University of Illinois safety specialist O. L. Hogsett says that knowledge of what to do before and during a tornado may mean the difference between life and death. Here are a few suggestions:

Keep calm. It won't help to get excited; it could in fact make matters worse. Tornadoes usually move in a northeasterly direction at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. If one is coming toward you, move at right angles to its path. If there isn't time to escape, lie flat on the ground face down in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine. If possible, get into a culvert.

A cyclone cellar offers the greatest safety during these storms. Second best - the SOUTHWEST CORNER of the basement usually offers the greatest safety. If you don't have a basement, make arrangements now to take shelter in your neighbor's basement.

Firemen Attend Academy

The Woodridge firemen, as a part of the Lisle fire protection district, are attending a fire academy in Lisle conducted by the state of Illinois. Clarendon Heights and Downers Grove Estates firemen are also attending the school, which is being financed by the three fire districts.

Art Holtz, part time fire fighting instructor at the University of Illinois, is teaching the group fire fighting tactics and procedures in a 5 week course. The firemen will attend class one night a week for 3 hour sessions of physical and oral training. Holtz, a resident of Champaign, is a full time fireman there.

In addition to attending the academy, the Woodridge firemen are attending training sessions in the village conducted by the Woodridge fire department.

Magistrates Disappear

About 2/3 of DuPage county's municipalities are not eligible to have a police magistrate because in municipalities with less than 10,000 population whose terms of office for police magistrate expired last month, no successor was named. This is the result of the judicial reform ballot (the blue ballot) approved by Illinois voters last November.

The state legislature passed legislation implementing the reform bill which alters the system of lower courts. Mar. 27, '63 a senate bill added a section to the Illinois municipal code which says, in part, "no elections shall be held for the office of police magistrate at any time after the effective date of this act... in any municipality with less than 10,000 inhabitants, whether or not a primary has been held and candidates chosen prior to March 27.

Where a police magistrate still has two more years before completion of his term, he continues to serve. For the others, the orders are to "close your doors on the date expiration of office."

In 1965 the justices of peace will complete their terms and none will be elected following that time.

Walter Larson, Woodridge police magistrate will continue, to serve until April, 1965.

Highways In The Sky

By Nick Lung

From time to time people have asked about the airplanes that seem to follow Ogden ave., or the jets, which we can follow by their contrails (long streams of vapor) that pass in the vicinity of Joliet.

Have you ever wondered why they travel on the same course whether over Joliet, Lisle or Chicago? The answer, of course, is that they follow roads or highways in the sky, just as you follow route 53 when going to Lisle. The aircraft do not follow a ribbon of concrete, but rather a radio beam. If you were to drive to Minneapolis by automobile, you would follow various routes, starting with route 53. As you can see by the chart, a pilot would follow the radio beam from Naperville Radio (C on chart) and he would be on a "road" called V-9.

Of the term "radio" as used above, a further look at the chart will show you that Woodridge (and Chicago) is surrounded by navigational radios. Each radio is named after the closest town and these radio stations send aerial beams (roads) in all directions.

The jets, mentioned previously, pass over Joliet Radio (D on chart) on aerial highway V-1510, westbound for L. A. or San Francisco, or eastbound for New York, Boston or other east coast cities. Aircraft leaving O'Hare field comes south, being directed by O'Hare departure radar, to V-6 and turning west pass close to Woodridge heading for Naperville Radio. (The physical location of that station, by the way, is just between Ogden ave. and the toll road. Go over and look at it sometime). Aircraft heading for Washington pass just east of Woodridge (east of Maple Lake golf club) and go over Big Run (F) and by radar vector down to Peotone Radio (G) and thence on course.

Aircraft coming from Pittsburgh and other cities in that area pass over Chicago Heights Radio (E) and then turn northwest to O'Hare. An aircraft traveling from New York to Chicago comes over the middle of Lake Michigan to Northbrook Radio (A) and turns south to O'Hare.

As you can see, there is a route system in the Chicago area that all pilots follow to keep order and safety in the air. This same route system extends in a vast network over the entire United States with each route having a different number, and wherever there is an airport, you will find a highway in the sky leading to it. If Woodridge had an airport, you could come here from anywhere just by following V-6, and getting off at Naperville.

Just as you carry a road map with all the roads laid out and numbered, so you can find your way, all pilots carry an aeronautical chart, so they can find their way. It's quite difficult to pull over to the side of the road, at 20 thousand feet, and ask some farmer, "Which way to V-6?"
