

Mrs. Crane To Retire June 20

Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, principal of Goodrich school, will retire June 20 after eleven eventful years with school district 68.

Mrs. Crane moved here with her husband, Carl, and two daughters during the '40's after the purchase of a home on 83rd st. She had taught for four years in Indiana, but had left teaching to devote her time to her daughters.

Shortly after their arrival here, however, Mrs. Crane was persuaded to teach at the one-room school at Barbers Corners. Six years later, she decided that she would definitely retire, but the Goodrich district was in need of a teacher for the two-room school on Hobson rd. In the fall of 1952 one room was in use. On opening day Mrs. Crane greeted 32 pupils, grades one through seven. By October the district had hired a second teacher.

Goodrich school remained a two-room school until 1957, when another three rooms were added. By the spring of 1959 Mrs. Crane found herself principal of a school system which in seven years had grown from a room full of elementary children to a five-room school with four teachers and 101 pupils.

But the real explosion was yet to come. In the fall of '59 the first Woodridge children descended on the school system, more than doubling the enrollment. She was confronted with the five-room Goodrich school, four homes in Woodridge which were used as school rooms, and ten teachers.

By mid-term 1960-61 an eight-room school at Woodridge was completed and Mrs. Crane was superintendent-principal of the two schools with a total of 13 rooms, 14 teachers and 324 pupils. Children came from every type of school system and every walk of life. That year was a year of coordination, organization and getting acquainted.

From September to mid January, 'til the Woodridge school was completed, split shifts added to the difficulties of administering the educational needs of a booming community. Her daughter, Mrs. Martha Lynn McMahan, served by her side for several years as school secretary until the fall of 1961 when she accepted a position in Naperville.

More construction was necessary to accommodate the rapidly growing enrollment,

Goodrich Construction Bids Opened

Bids on the proposed remodeling of Goodrich school were presented to the board of education, district 68, at their meeting June 3. Representatives of Wight and Associates, architects for the school, opened the four bids, three of which were then read aloud. The bid from Talmage Construction Co., Chicago, did not qualify because of failure to include the required bond and check to the school district in the amount of 10% of the bid.

Specifications for the proposed construction work included remodeling of four rooms in the older section of the school, (only one of which is now usable), re-vamping the heating system, installing new electrical wiring, shoring up floors in two upstairs rooms, a new washroom on the lower level to replace unusable toilets, lighting fixtures for ceilings of the four rooms, floor tile, painting, tuck-pointing of outside of building, installation of triple-track combination screens and storm windows (alternate proposal A) and acoustical tile ceilings for all four rooms (alternate proposal B).

A spokesman for the board told the WNR: "Original estimates on the cost of this remodeling ran as high as $25,000. We are very pleased with the results of the bidding and feel that Wight and Associates did an excellent job of holding expenses down."

Board Adopts Salary Ordinances

At a closed-floor meeting in the village hall June 6 the board of trustees voted

Police Rally To Nip Firemen ,28-26

The Woodridge police (alias "Kagann's Koppers") came up with an eight-run rally in the ninth inning to edge the Woodridge firemen 28-26 in the first baseball game between the two departments May 26.

"Fireball" Hank Wilgus went the route on the mound for the firemen, while police starter Joel Kagann ran into control trouble in the second inning and was relieved by Jack White who displayed a controversial but legal, hesitation pitch.

The game was highlighted by some sterling outfield work by Ed Renna and Paul Furio, who spent the major part of the afternoon crashing into each other in center field. The fielding play of the day, however, was Clarence Oakes' shoestring catch in short center field which turned into a double play.

The police victory was paced by the fine hitting performances of Jerry Szczepaniak and Jim Novello, with the latter scoring both a home run and a game-winning triple.

The turning point of the game was Joel Kagann's slide into third base on White's double to right center. Spectators report that there was a definite look of horror on the face of third baseman Joe Sullivan as the chief came roaring in. The impact left Sullivan a bit stunned but still conscious enough to witness the final moments of a very close game.

Lisle Spring Festival Saturday

The Lisle Spring Festival will be held June 15 on the Lisle Community high school grounds.

The V. F. W. will start the day off with a colorful parade at 10:30 from the Main St. school. The parade will proceed down Main st. to Jonquil ave. and then east to the high school grounds.

Following the V. F. W. color team, will be the queen and her court. A full day of attractions is planned by the festival committee, headed by Mrs. George Garcia.

unanimously to adopt two ordinances providing the trustees and the president with regular salaries totaling a possible $6,240 per year. Trustee Leon Werch was not present.

Ordinance 63-12 provides that trustees shall be paid at the rate of $15 per meeting for not more than one meeting per week and may miss up to two meetings per year without loss of pay. This amount represents the maximum trustee's salary permissible for a village this size under state statutes. Before the adoption of this ordinance, the board gave their approval of an ordinance providing for two regular board meetings per month instead of the previous one, with the meetings to be held on the first and third Thursday of each month.

The president was granted a salary of $1,560 per year payable at $130 per month by ordinance 63-13. President Roberts questioned the board regarding the two ordinances establishing salaries, stating that he understood the agreement was to hold a monthly review of expenditures and to pay salaries only if sufficient funds were available. James E. McClure, attorney for the village, said he had studied this point and that the ordinance must state definitely that the salaries be paid, but that the trustees could refuse pay for any particular period.

The board announced in a circular distributed before the meeting that all regular board meetings would be held in the village hall with a maximum of 25 people allowed to attend in accordance with the state fire marshal's ruling. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy were present at the June 6 meeting as representatives of the WNR. They were informed by the village clerk that only one would be allowed to remain. Murphy requested his wife to take shorthand notes and left the hall, which contained 21 people at the time of his removal.

The circular also announced that in the future the floor "as is the general practice with experienced and established villages" would not be open to the public during board meetings.

Editorial

It has always been the one song of revolutionary groups after they come to power that certain limitations must be placed on the privileges of the citizens so that certain things can be accomplished for the "good" of the people.

We view with alarm the recent village board decision not to open the floor to the public during board meetings. It has been the tradition of the previous village boards to open the floor to the public, and there is no excuse at this time for placing a limitation on the public in its own affairs.

The board has also decided to hold all regular village meetings at the village hall, which has a capacity of only 25 persons, because of fire regulations. Again, the tradition has been to move the meeting to the Woodridge school when the size of the crowd warranted it. Considering the number of persons who attend these meetings because of their official capacity, less than 10 private citizens are permitted to attend these meetings, with no chance to express any opinions during the meeting.

These actions by the board appear to us to be a childish attempt to force the public to support a civic center. Placing limitations on the democratic privileges of the people is not the proper way to gain popular support for the much-needed civic center. In fact, by their actions, they have probably alienated many of the people who have always supported the idea. The civic center is needed and it is up to the board to lay the ground work for the obtaining of one. It seems strange that the new members of the board were, before being elected, members of a party that strongly advocated the building of a civic center, yet since the election they have not taken any constructive steps to accomplish this end.

Another incident occurred at last Thursday's meeting which is of grave concern to us. For the past few years it has been the practice of the WNR to send two reporters to cover village meetings in order to give the people comprehensive coverage of the meeting's business. We arranged ahead of time to have two seats reserved for the meeting. However, at the start of the meeting, one of our reporters was removed to allow a representative of a newspaper from another town to attend, despite the fact that there were only 21 people at the meeting at the time, four short of the limit.

We all realize the board is facing many important problems at this time, but just because the president allowed the first meeting of the new trustees to degenerate into a brawl is no excuse to penalize all the people. While we do not endorse some of the actions taken by groups opposing the new board, the board should keep in mind that limiting the democratic privileges of the people will only serve to undermine the confidence the people have in them to make decisions which are in the best interest of the community.

Village Board

A resolution to retain McClure as village attorney was presented to the board and adopted unanimously. Trustee Redmond, under new business, brought up the subject of McClure's salary. McClure said that the fee agreed to by the majority of the board was $200 per month which would include attendance at regular, special and executive meetings, preparation of ordinances and attendance at court. There would be no additional fees except in cases of litigation or extraordinary matters for which the village would be billed according to established Bar Association rates. McClure said that this arrangement was subject to cancellation at any time by a letter from the board to which his "resignation would be forthcoming" and that, for this reason, he preferred not to put the agreement in writing. Redmond said that he felt there should be a written contract and McClure then agreed to prepare one.

McClure reported on negotiations with Ed Levin, attorney for Winston-Muss, regarding the Woodridge Sewer and Water Co.'s threatened suit against the village for breach of franchise in the event of the Winston-Muss annexation. McClure said he had Levin's verbal promise that the annexation agreement between Winston-Muss and the village would omit any mention of the village's granting Winston-Muss the right to service the annexed area with their proposed Lisle Utility Co. This revised agreement, McClure stated, would clear the village of any liability in the event of suit.

Trustee James Kinser reported to the board that he understood James Duffy of Surety Development Corp. had been notified to inform Albert Kaufman that the proposed plat of Unit 5 "is not acceptable as is."

Trustee David Callahan, chairman of the public protection committee, reported that his committee was investigating the need for increasing the size of all radar warning signs. The committee will also consider, at the request of several citizens, an increase in the maximum load limit permitted on village streets to make it less difficult for residents to obtain deliveries of heavy items such as black dirt.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Jean Dickey as treasurer and concurred in Roberts' appointment of Steven H. Goldberg, 7537 Woodridge Drive, to replace her. Mrs. Dickey had resigned at a previous board meeting but agreed to continue with her duties until a successor could be found. She resigned in order to devote more time to assisting her husband in his new business.

The board also concurred in the appointment of Howard L. Redman, 7541 Walnut, as building inspector.

At the May 2 meeting, President Roberts instructed the public protection committee to investigate and make a recommendation regarding the designation of additional streets as arterial. Callahan said that they had not had a chance to review the matter but the committee recommendation would be ready by the next board meeting.

Callahan also said that many roads in the village need repairing and "we'll move as fast as we can to get the roads in good shape."

The St. Scholastica Mens Club baseball team will play St. Procopius Tues., June 18. The game will be at St. Procopius at 7 p.m.

TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to make a public thank-you to all the residents of the village of Woodridge for their contributions in our second annual Poppy Day. I would also like to thank the village officials and mostly the members of the post and of the ladies auxiliary of Woodridge Memorial V. F. W. Post #4739 for an outstanding job.

The monies collected from these poppies goes to help the hospitalized veterans, the welfare of orphans and widows, maintenance of the national home in Eaton Rapids, Michigan, for orphans of deceased veterans, post relief fund, care of graves of our deceased comrades and many other activities.

Again, I'd like to say "thank you" to all who participated in helping to make Poppy Day a great success. Once again it shows the big hearts of Woodridge residents to give a helping hand when needed.

I'm glad to be a small part of this community and very glad to belong to an organization such as the V. F. W. of Woodridge.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Nikonchuk
1963 Poppy Day Chairman
Woodridge Memorial V. F. W. Post #4739

Dear Editor:

Yesterday was Sunday. It was an ideal day for anything--fishing, baseball or a picnic -- but my wife and I decided to give the village of Woodridge the once-over.

Having had my office in Downers Grove for over 28 years, I've heard a lot about Woodridge. Our drive in, about and around Woodridge was a revelation. This little community was bustling with energy. The day was ideal for working in the garden, and everybody seemed to be doing just that.

The thing that struck me was the energy and enterprise of the planners and builders and the publicity that brought people from all over to want to come out here to live. The fact that so many did in such a short time is a wonderful thing....

In America people are always striving to improve their way of life. The old pioneer spirit is ever-present. If one could stop to analyse what a wonderful thing this is in the wonderful country in which we live, one only has to make a comparison with any foreign country--for instance, England--from which people fled because of tyranny and oppression....

In closing, I would like to say that in Woodridge you have a nice community. The atmosphere is one of friendliness. Though the homes in England were built to last, their very enduring construction prevented progress. There were no alterations, remodeling or additions. Therefore, the countryside and living conditions remained inflexible. In America the picture is one of continual change, and the sensational growth of Woodridge is one result. The next step will be the establishment of a shopping center to supply that need. I would say that the future for Woodridge is very bright.

and 1961-62 saw a completed 20-room school at Woodridge and another room at Goodrich with a total of nearly 500 pupils and 21 teachers. Mrs. Crane found herself at the pinnacle. Only ten years before she had agreed to teach a single room full of children for district 68.

During the past year she has been principal of the now nine-room Goodrich school, which has an enrollment of 170 students.

In 1961 Mrs. Crane became a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary society for women educators.

A graduate of Pestalozzi-Froebel in Chicago, Mrs. Crane also attended Indiana State Teachers College and has since taken extension courses from the University of Missouri.

On retirement, the Cranes plan to return to their home town, Dana, Indiana. Dana is also home of Ernie Pyle, who was a childhood friend. They just recently finished construction of a cabin in Rocky Mountain National Park where they plan to live part of each year.

Her experiences have been many. As teacher, principal and superintendent of a mushrooming school system, she has seen the district and its students through problems from infancy to the present enrollment of nearly 700 students.

She wishes to extend a "big thanks to the school board, the teachers and the parents for their cooperation." As do most who retire she regrets leaving, but is looking forward to their new life back home in Indiana.

Police News

Chief Joel Kagann would again remind Woodridge citizens to be certain to ask to see licenses of door-to-door solicitors in the village.

He also announced that the police department is going to start enforcing the ordinance which prohibits the leaving of toys, bicycles, tricycles, etc., in the street. All such items will be brought into the station and the owners will be served with summons when they pick them up.

In view of the fact that there were 22 dog complaints in the month of May, Section 7 of the ordinance which provides for a $5.00 impounding charge for every dog picked up will be enforced. In addition to this, there is a storage charge for keeping the dog and a summons will be issued for letting the animal run loose.

Calls answered by the Woodridge police department in the month of May numbered 82 broken up as follows:

3 automobile accidents, 5 fire calls, 22 stray dogs, 3 lost children, 8 injured persons, 2 cases of larceny, 1 stolen automobile, 4 malicious mischief, 5 disturbance calls, 4 dog bites, 5 juvenile complaints, and 20 miscellaneous calls.

In addition there were 2 arrests for misdemeanors, 1 parking ticket issued, 13 warning tickets, and 3 ordinance violations.

42 traffic tickets were issued as follows: 34 speeding, 2 stop sign, 1 other moving violation, 1 equipment violation, 1 license plate violation, and 3 drivers license violations.

Total mileage covered by the department was 2,636 miles.

Total hours worked by part-time and reserve officers was 384. Broken down: patrol - 273; special duty (court, school, range practice, etc.) - 111

23 cases were disposed of in police magistrate court.

14 bicycle licenses were issued.

9 solicitor applications were fingerprinted and processed.

Fire Department News

The Woodridge fire department announced that the fire rating has been officially reduced to eight. Fire Chief Henry Wilgus said this would amount to about a $51 saving on fire insurance per home over a 3 year period. He suggested that the people notify their insurance company of this lower classification so that their premiums can be re-classified and any rebate on the old insurance rate that may be forthcoming can be collected.

Eleven volunteer firemen on the night crew recently concluded a fire academy course in Lisle. Each will receive a certificate and information and knowledge gained at the academy will be passed on to the 7-man day crew. These fellows are to be commended for their efforts in maintaining a top-notch fire department.

Already this month, the firemen have answered 3 fire calls and 4 inhalator calls. When a high tension power line broke last month, Chief Wilgus and 3 of his crew stood by with foam guns until 10:30 p.m. when the wire was repaired.

The fire truck and crew will be at the circus grounds all day June 13 when the Sells Bros. Circus comes to Woodridge. They will stand by with first aid equipment to cover any emergency.

Pastor Savage Resigns

Pastor R. W. Savage of the Woodridge Baptist Church has submitted his resignation to be effective June 30. Pastor Savage said that his "work here is completed." He said that represent his plans for the future are indefinite but that he graduated in May from the collegiate division of Northern Baptist Theological Seminary. Rev. Savage came to the Village Baptist Church Apr. 1, 1962. Since that time the church membership has doubled and there have been many other developments. New seating has been installed and also a new pulpit. A young peoples group was organized and a mens' fellowship started.

Mrs. Souerby's room is winding up a year of championship basketball. Since Christmas 1 girl has made a total of 142 baskets and 1 boy has made a total of 105 baskets. I really think that her class has done a marvelous job.

Mrs. Fagan's room is working on a project about things that they can do for their vacations. They are also studying about birds, space, and safety.

Every Friday in Mrs. Buchinger's room the children listen to different records about story tales. They draw pictures, write poetry, and write stories after they have listened to the records. They have also been drawing animals that don't exist and giving them names.

The 8th grade banquet turned out real well. I am sure that everyone had a very enjoyable time.

On June 5, 1963, the eighth grade class went on a trip to Springfield. We visited the capitol building first and we got to see the House of Representatives and the Senate in action. Then we visited Lincoln's home and his tomb. We then went to New Salem Park. It was really a lot of fun.

In the first game after the opener, the Yanks beat the Cubs. On May 23 the Cards slipped by the Braves in the top of the sixth to win 11-10. The cards had 13 hits while the Braves were held to only 6. It was a completely different game on May 24, however, as the Sox slammed the Cards 10-2. The winning pitcher, Hill, allowed only 3 hits. On May 26 the Braves upset the Yanks 15-10. The Braves then lost another close one on May 29. They were beaten by the Cubs 10-9. The Yanks came back to win 2 in a row as they downed the Sox and the Cards on May 30 and 31 respectively. The Braves put out a terrific effort on June 6 as they held the Sox to 1 run, while earning 7 themselves. Winning pitcher, Manges, allowed only 2 hits while he fanned 12 men. Both the Sox hits were by Hill.

(2) The contractor will not warrant or guarantee the extra because of this lack of compaction time.

(3) We can not and will not be a party to any contract for work not warranted for one year.

(4) The Veterans' Administration will not accept or approve extras not warranted for one year.

Mothers Hold Tea

An afternoon tea was held at the home of Mrs. Bernard Diaz, 2615 Forest Glen, on Thursday, May 23, from 2 to 4 p.m. Attending were a number of mothers with children in 1st grade, room 101, at Woodridge school. Besides acting as a means of getting acquainted with one another, it also made for an opportunity to discuss the problems of a first-grader in general. Mrs. Souerbry, teacher of room 101, also attended and gave the mothers information which would be helpful in aiding the child with his school work: What to expect of a child at this age; how to help in motivating his interests; and help him to develop self-confidence.

As a result, a better parent-child and teacher relationship was established.

 The importance of a super-duper education, is a necessity. Although it may always be possible to become successful (even with little schooling) without a top-notch education, getting ahead or even getting a job is very difficult.

Bishop McNamara's condition continues as serious. He is still at the Mayo Clinic, and while there have been signs of recovery, there are still complicating factors.

The parishoners are continuing with daily prayers for his recovery.

The whole world is mourning the death of Pope John XXIII. Tributes from many quarters have been paid to the Pope of Brotherhood and Peace. Certainly in his death there has been a marvelous lesson in patience and resignation to the will of God. It is to be hoped that his successor will finish the Ecumenical Council and continue the same program of Pope John for unity. "That all may be one." Special prayers will be said for the repose of the soul of the Pope and also for the work of selecting his successor.
