

15 Year Old Woodridge Youth Shot Evading Berwyn Police

Three Berwyn policemen were injured, one seriously, and a fifteen year old Woodridge youth was shot twice while resisting arrest during an early morning stolen car chase in Berwyn last Sunday. Woodridge Police Chief Joel Kagann reported that the

Plats For 3 New Areas Submitted

At the regular mid-monthly meeting of the village board on Sept. 19 plats were received for Surety Development's unit 6, which is to be called "The Highlands" and lies just north of 75th st. at Janes rd. and for the property to the south owned by Stade Construction Co. which will be known as "Woodridge Meadows." Surety's plat, along with engineering specifications, was referred to the village engineers, Consoer, Townsend & Assoc. for study. Stade's plan will be examined by the plan commission before being presented to the board for approval.

Thomas Church, chairman of the plan commission, said that Stade plans to begin building in the spring and will build in sections, with the first part of the development being directly south of unit 4 along Iriquois ave. Church also submitted to the board the preliminary plat of Surety's unit 5 which lies east of Janes rd. He said the plan commission recommends approval of this plat by the board.

TO PURCHASE TAMPER

In other actions the board voted the expenditure of $895 for the purchase of a hydraulic tamper and hammer for the repairing of the streets. The commissioner of public works, Jack Trask, said the village was paying $45 per day to rent an air compressor for this purpose, and he believes it would be cheaper in the long run for the village to purchase its own. He said that the department would need at least six more Saturdays to complete the street work.

BUSINESS ZONING DISCUSSED

The floor was opened to public discussion during the new business section of the meeting. Questions from the audience indicated that there is still some concern over the business zoning granted along 75th st. Trustee Edward Redmond, acting as chairman protem in the absence of President Roberts, said the covenant signed by Carlton Nadelhoffer will restrict the area so that no undesirable businesses will be allowed. In reply to a question about the unpaid taxes due on the village park, Trustee James Kinser said they will be brought up for discussion at the next regular meeting.

CATALPA SOUTH HAS BLOCKBUSTER

It was a block party!! The village has seen quite a few block parties, but to the residents of 7800 Catalpa it was a lovely day. The earlier residents of the block, who had resided for the entire year in aloof splendor, seemed to be taking the day in their stride. But the summer had seen the completion of most of the remainder of the homes, so everyone wanted to meet everyone else.

At 10 a. m. little Vicky Ward was heard informing Ray Burke, Jr., "Waymond, don't fawdet - today's the poddy."

At 12 noon the ladies were crossing the street exchanging recipes.

At 4 p. m. the contractors kindly installed three more driveways.

The festivities began at 4:30 with games for the children. There were balloons, foot races, egg tossing, and cracker-whistling contests.

At 6 p. m. a sumptuous collation was served from three long tables. There were hot beef, hot dogs, several salads, baked beans, five cakes and pies and plenty of ice cream for the children.

Dancing started at 8 p. m. and ended at 2 a. m.

youth had apparently stolen the car early Sunday morning from Alexander Klimek, 7613 Larchwood, Woodridge.

Three Berwyn policemen, on their way to River Forest to answer a juvenile complaint, spotted the car going through a red light and began the chase. After a futile attempt to stop the car, they tried to curb it, after which both cars went out of control. The police car crashed into the side of an A&P food store with two of the officers in the front seat going through the windshield. The other car hit a telephone pole, and the youth fled on foot. Several blocks away two Oak Park policemen spotted him and called for him to stop. The youth then pulled a knife and threw it at the policemen and fled. After again warning him to stop, they fired two shots hitting him in the left shoulder and in the foot. He was taken to Oak Park hospital under police guard.

He was charged with auto theft, resisting arrest, driving without a license and various traffic violations. Chief Kagann said the youth had previously been involved in a car theft.

2 Trustees Surety Discuss Civic Site

In a letter to the board of trustees read at the Sept. 19 village board meeting, Trustee Marvin Wiggins said that he and Trustee Ed Redmond had met with President Al Kaufman of Surety Builders to discuss the possibility of a civic center site. Wiggins' letter said that the board and Surety will issue a joint letter of intent at a later date.

Trustee Walter Hanson, chairman of the special studies committee, said the committee will have a report at the next board meeting concerning progress on the civic center and the street lighting program.

Police Dept. Reorganizes

The Woodridge Police Dept. is undergoing an extensive re-organization program. Patrolman Edward Renna has been placed in charge of the juvenile division assisted by James Novello and Gerald Timko.

Patrolman Edward Arndt was placed in command of the newly organized detective division and Patrolman John Loomis was assigned as commander of the newly organized traffic division.

Division commanders and assistants were appointed to enable them to go to schools specializing in their field. Starting Sept. 18 to Nov. 20, the three men in the juvenile division will attend school in Wheaton conducted by the University of Illinois Police Training Institute. Topics will be: Community Relations; Understanding Juvenile Behavior, taught by Dr. John P. Clark, U. of I. department of sociology; Laws Pertaining to Juveniles, by Hon. William L. Guild, Du Page county judge; Services of the Illinois Youth Commission, by Irvin Juergensmeyer, educational consultant from the Illinois Youth Commission; Police Dept. Juvenile Control; Probation Services of Du Page County, by Ray Klein, Du Page county director of social services; Parole Services, by Don Zaun, Illinois Youth Commission field services; The Role of the Psychiatrist in Juvenile Problems, by Dr. John Halasz, senior psychiatrist in the Southwest Suburban Mental Health clinic, and director of training at the Institute of Illinois Juvenile Research; Juvenile Court Procedures, by Hon. Wm. Guild, county judge and Hon. Wm. J. Bower, states attorney; Youth Bureau and Junior Officer of Police Department.

Part of the program will be a field trip to the reception center at Joliet State Penitentiary.

There will be a graduation exercise at the close of the lecture series.

Because of the boy scout camp out this week-end, the paper drive has been postponed until Oct. 5.

Methodists Buy Church Site

The Woodridge Methodist church has announced that they have purchased a site of land on which to build a church. The property, approximately four acres, is north of 75th st. Final details on plans for the new church are not yet available.

The Woodridge Methodist Church was formed in August, 1962, with meetings held in the basement of the village hall on Sunday evenings. Visiting ministers conducted the services.

Rev. J. L. Siple was appointed interim pastor in Nov., 1962, and on Nov. 11, 1962, the church began holding worship services at Goodrich school.

to 2,009. The Woodridge polls also recorded a negative tally, 124 to 105.

The proposition asked for a 21¢ increase in the rate limit as approved in 1958 in order to cover the costs of an improved instructional program, more competitive teachers' salaries and an increased enrollment. Supt. Glenn Pickrel explained that a budget study for the 1964-65 school year showed a $223,000 deficit at the 76¢ rate.

Change In Rt. 53 May Affect Taxes

The proposed re-routing of highway 53 presents problems both financial and practical to school district 99, Downers Grove Community high school.

The Illinois state highway department plans a re-routing through Downers Grove. One of the three re-routings being considered would require a cloverleaf at 63rd st. and Dunham rd. and would take out a section of the new high school site. Another route being considered is generally in the Belmont rd. area. The third route is west of the Ellsworth Industrial park. The village of Downers Grove is reported as favoring this route, as it goes through a more open area.

In addition to the practical problems of routing, there is the consideration of the loss to the school district of revenue from taxes.

School Supt. Glenn Pickrell estimates a loss of about $400,000 for 250 feet of right-of-way and cloverleafs, plus about four miles of homes. He roughly estimated this at about nine to ten million dollars in assessed valuation.

Supt. Pickrell pointed out that this loss in property valuation would mean that approximately eight cents more in taxes would have to be levied in order to provide the district with the same income.

Trial Continued

There has been another postponement in the hearing of the civil suit brought by Ralph H. Kennell against the individual trustees and the village of Woodridge. This third delay is because of illness of the judge. The case was continued to Fri., Sept. 27.

Police Plan Party

The Woodridge police department has reserved the school gym for Oct. 31 for a Halloween party for children of the village. Last year approximately 150 children attended the party and more are expected this year.

Any parents who are willing to chaperone or help at the party may contact Chief Kagann, Wo 8-2191, who commented, "Help will be greatly appreciated."

Outdoorsman Joe McGrath instructs his young sons Johnny and David in the joys and dangers of bow and arrow hunting. The boys seem duly impressed by the razor-sharp tip of Daddy's custom-made arrow. (WNR photo)

The smell of burning leaves and the appearance of the harvest moon mean many things to many people. To the child, it is the end of a story-book summer and a return to the drudgery of school. To the sports fan, it means a new and exciting season of football. To the homeowner, it means impending cold weather with snow to be shoveled and high heating bills. But to Joe McGrath, a pioneer Woodridgite, fall means only one thing - deer-hunting season.

Joe is a confirmed outdoorsman who often surrenders a soft bed to match wits with a Walleyed Pike or a Wisconsin deer. He has hunted and fished, he says, for longer than he can remember, but the thrill of the chase never wears thin. Among his trophies are "at least" a dozen deer and one unforgettable bear. These were shot with a rifle. Of late, however, Joe has forsaken rifle hunting for the infinitely more challenging bow and arrow.

Joe claims that hunting with a bow and arrow compares with nothing else in outdoor life. The hunter wages a personal duel with the hunted. The game has a better than even chance of survival, since arrows must be shot at extremely close range for accuracy, often less than 30 yards. A bow cannot be kept continually in firing position, and drawing the bow is much harder than squeezing a trigger. All told, the chance of a kill is much less than with a rifle.

Authorities in Wisconsin obviously recognize the difference between rifle and bow hunting. The archers are allowed a 2-1/2-month season in which to bag a deer, needing a $10 license, while those using a gun have only 9 days, and pay $50 for the privilege. The limit per hunter in either case is one deer, but gun hunters are allowed only bucks, and bowsmen can stalk without regard for sex or age.

Joe, whose eyes are alight when he talks about hunting, uses a 50-pound bow, which has a range of 70 yards. His arrows are made to order, at a cost of $26 per dozen. The hunting heads on these, resembling in shape the familiar Indian arrow head, have small barbs protruding from either side, and are honed razor-sharp before a trip.

The bow season is scheduled before the rifle season, and as a result the deers are less skitterish. This is to the advantage of the hunter, since he must get so close. Aim is made for the chest, directly behind the front legs, in an attempt to enter the rib cage and pierce the heart. If such a shot is successful, it is a mortal wound, and the deer must be followed, until he drops.

The average deer yields about 125 pounds of lean venison, which, according to Joe, is preferable to the best cut of beef. Contrary to what many people think, venison does not have a wild taste unless the animal is downed while running scared. If this happens, the secretion of certain glands causes the meat to have a gamy, strong taste.

Danger to the hunter using a bow is always present, increasing the excitement. Sidearms are not permitted in Wisconsin, so his only protection is the bow and a knife. A wounded buck, or a buck during the mating season ("rut" season) is unpredictably dangerous. And, of course, where woods are, bears are not far behind.

If you're a hunter, like Joe McGrath, you're always welcome to drop in and share your experiences with him. Don't be misled by the beautiful 8-point buck which adorns the living room (and which was only recently allowed out of the garage by Joe's wife, Marie). This proud-looking deer was downed by a .30-30 Marlin - not an arrow. Try as he might, he hasn't yet been able to kill one with a bow and arrow. Knowing Joe, however, he won't give up until he does.

IT'S ELEMENTARY WOODRIDGE SCHOOL

by Mary Jane Clark

School's open, and I'm glad to start out my new column by announcing that the two seventh grades are collecting various rocks, minerals, information on them, etc. in Mrs. Garner's reading class. They got the idea from a story in their readers called, "The Rockhounds".

Mr. Hacker's seventh grade is bringing animals into the classroom - as a biology project.

We eighth-graders are bringing newspaper clippings to school of recent events. We've got quite a collection.

In Mr. Suchan's sixth-grade, Rosemary Dickey made up a cute article called "The Google".

So long, everyone. Be seeing you soon.

Fire Department News

Fire Chief Henry Wilgus reported two inhalator calls; one a small boy and the other a man suffering from an asthma attack. The third call was a false alarm.

Several small boys brought hand puppets and bars of soap to Mrs. Virginia Bossert, president of the Firemen's Auxiliary, to help fill the Christmas box the auxiliary is preparing to send to the retarded children's home in Wheaton. The boys did not give their names and Mrs. Delores Wilgus, publicity chairman, would like them to call Mrs. Bossert, Wo 9-1654, so they may be thanked personally for the gifts.

"Many more items are needed to fill the box and any contributions would be greatly appreciated," said Mrs. Wilgus.

BUILDING PERMIT REPORT

Horace Thoresen, Woodridge building commissioner, reports the following building permits issued during the month of August: houses, 10; garages, 5; and back porches, 1.

Scout News

Boy Scout troop 109 will attend the Illinois District Pioneer Camporee at Thunderbird Scout Reservation, Sept. 27, 28 and 29.

Regular scout meetings are held each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Woodridge school gym. Anyone may attend these meetings, either to visit or to help out.

Committeemen for the scout troop will meet Mon., Oct. 1. The place has not been designated yet, but anyone who wishes to attend may call Scoutmaster Joe Shroka, Wo 9-4656.

Girl Scouts

In the next two weeks, Girl Scout leaders of the Lisle-Woodridge area will be telephoning all girls who belong to their troop, notifying them of the time and place of the troop's first meeting for this fall.

Leaders, co-leaders, and troop committee members will get together to plan the activities for the year, act on the girls' suggestions and decide on community needs in which the Girl Scouts may participate.

Schools, churches, and leaders' homes have been generously donated for the time needed for Girl Scout meetings and, as always, the parents are co-operating where necessary.

It is with regret that we must inform girls who will not be notified in the next two weeks that troops to which they have been assigned must remain idle until qualified leaders can be found.

The troop organizer, Mrs. Floyd Zettel, Wo 8-0898 will accept registrations from all girls 7 through 17 who have not previously registered. Some troops still have openings while others are filled to capacity. If a troop is full, names will be placed on that troop's individual waiting list.

Methodist

Rev. Siplely was happy and pleased to announce the purchase of a piece of property on which to build a church. The men of the church have made an important giant step toward a sound religious education, which, along with the schools, is the foundation of a good community.

On Sun., Sept. 29, the congregation will again be asked to vote on a name for the church, the name Hope being rejected by the Council. The church must have a name before it can become incorporated, so please call the Pastor, Wo 8-4868, if you have any suggestions.

Remember membership preparation classes are held each Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the parsonage for young people age 12 to 17 and Methodist youth fellowship meets each Sun. evening at 7 p.m. at the parsonage for youngsters age 10 and above.
