

....And One Of Everything

Christmas is for children.....or is it for adults who want the opportunity to let their sophistication slip a bit without losing face? Santa, pictured here at the Woodridge VFW party Dec. 15, is probably having as much fun as the kids.....if not more.

Roman Named To School Board

Emil Roman

Emil Roman of Woodridge Estates has been appointed to serve on the board of education of school district 68. He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Al Olsen who was transferred to New York. Roman will serve in the appointed position until the April election.

He and his wife, Gladys, have lived in Woodridge Estates for five years and have been on the district 68 advisory council. The Romans have also been on the board of the Community Club for the past 2 years. Mrs. Roman has been a teacher at Goodrich school and a substitute teacher at both Goodrich and Woodridge schools. They are the parents of one youngster, a son 14 months old.

Directory To Be Published Soon

Preparations for printing the WNR's 1964 Woodridge Telephone Directory have been completed, and it is expected that the directory will be available for distribution early in January. All paid up subscribers to the WNR living in the Woodridge area will receive a directory without charge. Additional directories will be available at a cost of 50¢ each.

No WNR Next Week

In order to enable the staff of the Woodridge News Review to have a holiday vacation, there will be no edition published next week. The next regularly scheduled edition will be published Jan. 9, 1964.

Roman who is a Drake University graduate in pharmacy is employed by Parke-Davis & Co.

Ned Hill, 2926 Everglade, resigned from the school board effective Dec. 16. Hill who is with Western Electric Co. has been transferred to Burlingame, California as an engineer supervisor. He was one of the first individuals elected to represent Woodridge on the school board of district 68.

weather-wise, but, in another sense, the stormiest in Woodridge history. It began a year of feverish political activity and bitter debate, of eviction notices, law suits, threats of suit and threats of counter-suit, of rumors, misunderstandings and chaotic board meetings. Out of the turmoil came signs of progress; biggest of all, perhaps: a united village voting approval for the annexation of Winston Hills under an agreement considered favorable to Woodridge by almost everyone.

February

Things got off to a roaring start in February with the filing of petitions for candidacy for the upcoming April election. Woodridge was to have a new political party, the Citizens Action Party, in addition to the incumbents' Woodridge Independent Party and one independent candidate. The Feb. 7 issue of the WNR introduced the CAP candidates and their platform, followed by a statement of policy and list of candidates from WIP in the Feb. 21 issue.

Also in the Feb. 21 issue was the birth announcement of little Celeste Wokas, 7665 Sprucewood ave., who pushed the population of Woodridge to a new high of 2,306 according to a special federal census.

March

In March, St. Scholastica launched a drive for funds to build an 8-room school and temporary facilities for church services. A preliminary annexation agree-

Board Defers Surety Annexation

A bitter cold evening Dec. 19 found a quorum of the Woodridge village board late in forming, Trustee Leon Werch and David Callahan late in arriving and Trustee Marvin Wiggins absent. The first action of those present was to defer action on Surety's annexation petitions submitted Dec. 10. Surety had requested annexation of parcels of land in units 5 and 6 for which the board has already approved the plats of development. The reason for the deferment was to allow the entire board time to review the matter. Trustee Jim Kinser, directing his statement to Al Kaufman of Surety Development, said further that this wasn't a matter of holding up Surety but of consideration of the general welfare of the whole village. A meeting was then set for last Saturday morning to meet with Surety.

Zoning Variation Granted

Robert Dreveny, chairman of the zoning board of appeals, reported to the trustees that the zoning board recommended the granting of a variation for construction of an attached garage at 2828 Everglade. The layout of the lot requires a zoning variation to construct the proposed garage.

Deputy Clerk Ordinance

An ordinance creating the office of deputy clerk was read but not passed, as it is to be posted at the village hall to allow time for any interested citizen to examine it. Trustee Leon Werch also wanted time for review of the proposed ordinance.

Lutheran Campaign Begins Jan. 6

Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, LCA, Woodridge, will be conducting a capital funds campaign Jan. 6-23 for a Church building under the leadership of Mr. Alfred Klimesz of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement for Stewardship of the Lutheran Church in America. Mr. Klimesz will arrive on Jan. 6 and remain for the duration of the campaign. Dates already planned for the campaign are: Jan. 10 - Survey Committee meeting; Jan. 16 - a congregational dinner, place to be announced; and Jan. 19 - the home visitation.

Since 1957, Mr. Klimesz has been with the Lutheran Laymen's Movement directing campaigns for L L M in Eastern and Mid-western states. This is the first time he has been in the Chicagoland area.

Mr. Klimesz makes his home in Wildwood, New Jersey. He is married and has a daughter in high school. His background includes serving in the Navy and Naval Reserve, running a food market, working for a radio station as a sales representative and announcer. Before beginning work with L L M, he ran his own advertising and public relations agency.

Mr. Klimesz is a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Wildwood, N. J. Until recently he has been vice president of his congregation. He has also served as councilman and secretary.

ment between the village and Winston-Muss was presented to the public and hotly debated. An editorial on Mar. 7 pleaded for more school board candidates, followed by an announcement in the Mar. 21 issue that six - Robert Albee, John Dahlberg, Al Olsen, Procopio Rico, Chuck Smeeth and Art Thuerk - were throwing their hats in the ring. Amidst the hue and cry of political campaigning, John Narducci managed to keep his wits about him and won the ping-pong championship from Barry Aufmann.

April

By April 4 the Catholic population had pledged $85,000 toward their building fund, candidates of both political parties were busy re-stating their platforms and the editor of this newspaper found himself knee-deep in letters-to-the-editor from a wildly excited public.

Setting a new record for Woodridge, 60% of the voting public turned out for the April 16 village election and surprised everyone, even the CAP itself, by ousting all five incumbent trustees. The village clerk, Mrs. Faye Hoffman, and Trustees Callahan, Hansen, Kinser, Redmond and Wiggins were promptly sworn into office, and Woodridge citizens waited with various emotions to see what changes would be wrought by 5/6 of a new village board.

In a quieter school election, board members Dahlberg and Olsen were returned to office and Thuerk and Smeeth won new seats.

The WNR inadvertently opened up another battleground by publishing pictures of unsightly surplus cars around and about the village. Result: another flood of letters-to-the-editor as all quarters were heard from. Meanwhile, the Woodridge Mothers Club calmly went about its business and elected Mrs. Dorothy Provo president for the coming year.

May

In May, along with the start of baseball practice and a fire at Willard's Hardware Store, came more political trouble. The five new trustees faced a not-too-friendly, highly agitated audience at their first board meeting May 2. There was trouble over the employment of a new village attorney (still unresolved) and more trouble in negotiations with Surety Development Corp. In the heat of the moment there was even trouble over the purchase of a flag. By the end of May village officials and Winston-Muss had failed to come to an agreement and W-M petitioned the county for a re-zoning of their area from

R-2 to R-3 (a petition which was later denied).

The May 30 issue of the WNR contained happier news. Lad Vraný and Don Driver had been appointed principals of Woodridge and Goodrich schools, respectively. The little leaguers lived things up with their Sunday parade and Chief Kagann and his men were proudly displaying their new summer uniforms (purchased by the Woodridge Police Association).

June

By June 12, the political pot, which had been simmering since the election, finally boiled over. The first extra edition of the WNR ever published carried the shocking news that the five new trustees had been arrested on complaints by William Woody that board meetings were not being opened to the public.

It was in June, too, that the Woodridge Womens Club was formed and members threw themselves enthusiastically into an impressive number of community services. Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, superintendent of schools, retired after 11 years in district 68 with the happy knowledge that the Goodrich school annex was to be named in her honor. Thomas Tousignant was appointed to succeed her.

The Police Association circus came to town, delighting the young and the young-in-heart; Rev. Savage resigned as pastor of the Village Baptist Church; and Winston-Muss announced they had broken off annexation negotiations with the village. Soon after, the school board reported on their separate agreement with W-M under which the district was to receive two 8-acre school sites, $75,000 cash and water and sewer connections to Goodrich school.

July

Fourth of July night, the skies over Woodridge were brilliant with fireworks, joint project of the WAA and the police and fire departments. There were more fireworks on the political scene as a second suit was filed against the village trustees by Ralph Kennell. This one objected to closed meetings, the appointment of a new village attorney and the establishment of officials' salaries. Also in July: a referendum to approve a 21¢ increase in the educational fund tax rate just squeaked through by 8 votes; a group of teens formed an auto club and called themselves the "Ramchargers" (the idea caught on, and now we have the "Car-ds", too); Mr. J. L. Sibley accepted an appointment as minister of the newly-formed Woodridge Methodist Church.

August

By Aug. 8 Justice of the Peace John Cockrell had rendered his decision in the case of Woody vs. the five trustees,

A Tradition In Woodridge

SANTA, CANDY and a FIRE ENGINE! There's a red hot combination. The Woodridge fire department provided this excitement for Woodridge youngsters Sunday, December 22. Bad weather doesn't stop firemen as they proved so well last year on one of the most bitter cold days of the year. This year, however, the weatherman cooperated a little bit better with Santa's helpers (the firemen). The Sun even smiled a bit.

finding them "not guilty as charged." Surety Builders was displaying five new model homes, and the WAA began cleaning up the south end of the baseball field in preparation for a big new recreation area.

Police Magistrate Walter Larson moved away from the village and was forced to resign from his post, leaving Woodridge permanently without a magistrate (because of the passage of the so-called "blue ballot".)

A pump house belonging to the Woodridge Sewer & Water Co. exploded, causing some $20,000-$30,000 damage, but, happily, left unharmed the children who had been playing in the area just minutes before.

September

For the Sept. 5 issue, the WNR created its own big news when the board of directors decided to publish the paper on a weekly basis. The following week, after months of on-and-off negotiations, the village board and Winston-Muss signed their agreement and Winston Hills became part of Woodridge.

Little leaguers stole the spotlight for awhile as the Yanks proudly accepted the WAA championship trophy.

October

The WNR of Oct. 3 reports the resignation of Art Thuerk from the board of education. Two days later over 600 voters flooded the polls to show their approval of the Winston Hills annexation by a 3 to 1 margin, and the size of Woodridge was thereby officially doubled.

It was an exciting time for the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church as members voted to purchase a 4.3 acre church site on the north side of 75th st.

Later in the month, the Mothers Club packed so much "fun" into their Fun Fair they rated a special front-page editorial commending them for providing a "picnic for the people of Woodridge."

There was more in October: Nancy O'Connell was appointed to the school board, President Roberts became "mayor" and Winston-Muss broke ground for the construction of five model homes along Rte. 53.

Halloween brought a pumpkin-colored front page for the WNR and three projects for the busy, busy Woodridge Police Association: a dance for adults, another for the teens, and a parade and witch-burning for the youngsters.

November

It was in November that Rev. Donald E. Roop became the new pastor of the Village Baptist Church, Al Olsen resigned from the school board because of a job transfer and the WNR celebrated its third birthday.

The Nov. 28 paper was put together with a heavy heart as staff members joined the rest of the country in mourning the death of President Kennedy.

December

Another school district referendum this month gave voters a chance to consider a $165,000 bond issue for additions to Woodridge and Goodrich schools; approval was given, 155 to 108.

A decree was expected Dec. 23 in the civil suit Kennell vs. the board of trustees. The VFW was proposing an interfraternal council for better cooperation among village organizations.

The firemen were planning Santa's ride through the village in spite of below zero weather.

And everyone had a very merry Christmas, we hope. BY ELLIE MURPHY

12 DAYS OF CHRISTMAS

The children in the 5th through 8th grades of the Woodridge school presented their annual Christmas program on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17.

Music for the program, "The Twelve Days of Christmas", was under the direction of Mrs. Joan Mason. Dancing was under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Ehlschlaeger.

The musical playlet was narrated by Susan DiFrancesco and Mary Clark. Richard Blanchette played the Lord; Shifra Werch, the Lady; and Ginger Garr, the Page. The gifts on each of the twelve days were portrayed by the 5th graders and a few 4th graders. A special 6th grade chorus provided the music.

Special features of the program included a solo by Mary Vandeleur, a Czechoslovakian folk dance by 8th grade girls, "Winter Wonderland" by the girls sextet, and Christmas carols by the school chorus.

At the close of the program, the Mothers Club presented each of the youngsters with the traditional candy cane.

May Post Bail For Traffic Violation

Chief Joel Kagann announced that the following changes in rules relating to traffic and quasi criminal cases adopted by the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois will take effect after Jan. 1, 1964:

All appearance dates shall be not less than 10 days after the issuance of a summons nor more than 30 days. The motorist arrested for a traffic violation shall have the option of posting his license as bail with the arresting officer or of posting cash bail in the sum of $25.00, condition for appearance at the time and place specified in the complaint. The person arrested shall be furnished with an official receipt for the cash deposit. If the person arrested does not wish to deposit his driver's license with the arresting officer, he shall be at once taken to the nearest available police station, sheriff's office, county jail or other county, municipal or other building housing governmental offices and there be required to give bail in the amount of $25.00, except for the following violations: leaving the scene of an accident, bail is $100; driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors, $200; reckless driving, $100; or driving with suspended license, $500. The above bonds are for residents of the State of Illinois only.

The person arrested for violations other than those described above, may, by placing $25.00 in cash in an envelope addressed to the clerk of the circuit court of the county wherein the violation occurred and depositing same by the person arrested in a U. S. Government mailbox, postage prepaid in the presence of the arresting officer, be in compliance with the foregoing rules for giving bail; and in such case, the tickets shall accompany the $25.00 cash bail. If a motorist elects to use this method, the arresting officer will not give an official receipt for the cash deposit.

Double Take

by Shirley Manges

Looking back over the December, 1960, editions of the WNR, I noticed a feature called "Garden Notes." It was interesting and full of helpful hints. Assuming that most of us out here in Woodridge are new homeowners and novices at gardening, I think it would be great to have this feature continued.

The biggest news seemed to be the completion of the "new school", which prompted the organization of the Mothers Club. The purpose of the club was to raise funds to purchase necessary items for the school. Many things were donated, the most important being a stove for the kitchen donated by Delores Lowry. Anyone familiar with Mothers Club today realizes their services to the school have been considerably extended.

Another new club formed this month was the Woodridge Garden Club. The enthusiasm of Flo Benckendorf stimulated the first couple of meetings. The Garden Club is still active. How about one of the members continuing the "Garden Notes" feature?

I see where Bruce Lentz was appointed the first superintendent of public works for the village.

The Woodridge Home Owners Association (now extinct) sponsored Santa's ride through the village in 1960. A couple of Santa's helpers were Dan Hallowell and Horace Thoreson. The volunteer fire department also contributed to the spirit of Christmas by offering Christmas trees for sale. This is another project I would like to see continued.

By the way, I noticed that that rusty hand lawn mower was still for sale. I sure hope someone grabbed up that bargain.

Arboretum Announces Program

The Morton Arboretum recently announced its winter program for 1964. The Natural Science of the Chicago Region, a ten-week course, beginning January and held Tuesdays from 1 to 3:30, will include a different subject each session. Fee is $10. The 10-week Winter Oil Painting class begins January 8 and continues each Wednesday from 9:30 to 11:30. Beginning January 9, the 10-week Interpretation of Nature through Watercolor course, will be held on Thursday afternoon from 1 to 3. The fees for these courses are nominal.

Three Arboretum fieldtrips are scheduled free of charge. Led by Alice Goodrich, the trips will take place Jan. 24, Feb. 21, and Mar. 20 from 9:30 a. m. to 12.

Monday evening courses from Jan. 6 through March, 8 to 10 p. m., are: Old Herbs and Early Garden Literature; Natural Science of the Chicago Region; Identification of Ornamentals in Winter; Economic Botany; Library Treasures and How to Know Our Common Winter Birds. Advanced registration is necessary. For further information phone Thornhill Building, 969-5682, Mondays through Fridays, 9-12, 1-5.

The year 1963 will be remembered by sports fans across the nation with many and varied emotions. The Los Angelite will remember it as the year of the Dodger. A fan from Wisconsin will remember the Rose Bowl. Chicagoans will remember 1963 as the year in which they were once more able to throw back their shoulders, stick out their chins, and take a walk in the sunshine. But all sports fans will look back on 1963 as a year of unparalleled sports thrills.

Who can forget the first day of the year, and the Rose Bowl game between Southern Cal. and the University of Wisconsin; when an unknown named Ron Vanderkelen came off the bench and directed the Badgers to a thrilling rally? When the fourth quarter started, the Trojans led by 4 touchdowns, but Vanderkelen's great quarterbacking cut the deficit to only a few points, and brought on swarms of pro scouts.

The basketball season came down to a roaring conclusion one Saturday in March when Loyola, eliminator of Big 10 Champ Illinois, met Cincinnati for the NCAA title in Louisville. Loyola fell seemingly hopelessly behind the, surged late in the game to tie, and went on to win in overtime. On the same night, Illinois basket fans watched the conclusion of the sweet sixteen tournament in Champaign. In this game, Collinsville led Carver with seconds to go, until a third stringer named Schmedly popped in a one hander from the corner to give Carver a one point victory.

The Chicago Blackhawks that spring were closing in on the first National Hockey League title in their history until, inexplicably, they faded, finished second, and lost in the first round of the Cup playoffs. This fall, however, they are off to an even better start than last season, and promise that there will be no hint of a letdown.

During the summer, we had baseball in bushel baskets, as always. The Cubs' fortunes soared, as they finished above .500 for the first time in 17 years. 20 game winner Dick Ellsworth pointed the way. The White Sox, behind rookies Ward and Peters, finished a long second to the Yanks, but at least better than 8 other AL clubs. The National League pennant chase went right down to the wire, as the St. Louis Cardinals put on a stretch drive which ended a day late and a dollar short. The series was a ho-hum affair, with the Dodgers romping in 4 straight.

The Woodridge baseball league, which has become as stereotyped as the American League, awarded its laurels to the Yankees, behind John Narducci for the 3rd successive year. There was some early competition which dropped to the wayside as the year progressed.

Soon after Labor Day the football season began, and what a season it has been. Illinois, with a last game 13-0 win over Michigan State, is on its way to the Rose Bowl. The Chicago Bears are Western Division Champions, slated to meet the New York Giants in the title game. The Bears, playing heart stoppers week after week, rewarded their fans who have hungered for a title for 7 years. Two early wins over the powerful Packers and a last second, last game, last ditch, must, win over the Lions brought the much deserved title to George Halas.

This was the year, 1963.

Tattle Tales

By Nan Davis & Marian Cotey

It was "Feliz Navidad" at the home of Jean and Earl Martin, 2849 Crabtree on the afternoon of Dec. 23. For years Jean has admired the custom of the Mexican peoples at Christmas time of having a pinata for the children. The pinata is usually a paper mache figure suspended from the ceiling. It is chock full of candies and toys for the youngsters. The participants are blindfolded and given a stick to knock the pinata loose. The one who breaks it wins a special prize. This is one of the celebrations during the Christmas season and it is called a Posadas. Attending were: David, Michael and Danielle Smith, 7645 Woodridge, Debbie, Linda, Bob and Roxanne Geils, 2901 Crabtree, Kenny and Joan Sievert, 2951 Forest Glen and, of course, Dean and David Martin. The parents of the children enjoyed the event very much.

The Jack Kline's of 7663 Walnut will be enjoying a Christmas party at the home of her sister in Addison. The VFW in Cicero will have dinner and dancing to celebrate the New Year and Mr. and Mrs. Kline will attend together with Mr. and Mrs. James Montello and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCarthy all of Woodridge.

Tommy Foyer, 7842 Catalpa, celebrated his 10th birthday Dec. 15 with a small get-together of the family. Present were Barbara Foyer and Mary Anne Ricker, Tommy's sisters, and his parents, Tom and Fran and a friend, Wayne Lethiot. Tommy admits he had a wonderful time. Happy Birthday, Tom.

Both grandmothers will help Deborah Doranski of 7800 Chestnut celebrate her second birthday Dec. 31. Deborah's parents are the Daryl Doranskis.

Two belated, but very "Happy Birthdays" this week: Dec. 9 - Janice Cornett of 2811 Everglade and Dec. 19 - Catherine Wokas of 7665 Sprucewood.

In for the Thanksgiving holiday from Kansas were the Mother, Mrs. Ayers and brother Roger Ayers of Mrs. Sharon Albee of 2946 Jonquil. Also visiting Mrs. Albee was her sister, Mrs. Sandra Ellico. Our deepest condolences to Mrs. Ellico on the death of her Navy husband in a plane off Puerto Rico.

The Robert Murphys and the Carl Warners spent an enjoyable Dec. 14 at Second City (improvisational theatre with a revue unbelievably entitled "13 Minotaur or Slouching Towards Bethlehem.")

Almost as unbelievable as the foregoing title is the following tale. A lady, who having sworn me to secrecy shall remain nameless, decided on cinnamon toast for a late evening snack. And, thereby hangs a tail. After popping the bread in the toaster, she noticed the odor of something burning. Now, everyone knows that raisens in toast have a way of falling down and burning, but this was getting pretty bad. . . . bad enough to pop up the toast and investigate. With the toast, up popped a mouse complete with a burned tail. Well, the mouse took off one way and the lady another. With complete husbandly understanding, the man of the house greeted his screaming wife in the hallway with, "Now, what?", as though this were the 10th time in an hour that she'd come screaming down the hallway. This gal is all compassion though, as she tells it, "Can you imagine that poor mouse? First he has a piece of bread 4 times bigger than he is thrown down on his head, then he's plunged down a deep pit and roasted, popped up in the air and the final indignity, having the cause of all this grief

Kagann Cautions Motorists

Woodridge motorists are cautioned against the hazards of winter driving and warned to keep their windshields free of snow and frost for a clear view of the street by Joel A. Kagann, chief of police.

One of the most dangerous acts by drivers during the winter months is failure to completely clear their windows -- both windshields and rear windows particularly -- before driving.

"It is essential that drivers must remain alert and must be able to see what's ahead clearly," he said, "and the only way this can be done is by clearing all windows before starting to drive."

"Drivers must keep their wits and their windshield clean. Winter driving requires a sharp and clear mind to cope with the hazards any driver may encounter," Kagann noted.

"Many drivers fail to wait until the frost that covers a windshield has been cleared by a defroster before starting to drive," he said.

Frequently, a windshield does not start to frost until the driver has gone a short distance. In this case he should pull over to the side of the street or off the street and wait for it to clear," he added.

"For safe driving in Woodridge and in Illinois, drivers must remember to be alert to the hazards of winter driving and keep a clear view of the road ahead of them."

Congratulations to the Richard Himes family, 7619 Catalpa, on the birth of their fourth son, Robert James. Robert arrived December 21 at Community Memorial Hospital, La Grange and weighed in at 10 lbs. 6 1/2 oz. Waiting to welcome him home are brothers Paul, Michael and Richard and sister, Linda. Robert's mother, Mary Catherine, is a board member of the Woodridge News Review. At present she is handling the community calendar for the WNR.

Methodist

The sermon for Dec. 29 will be "The Mores for '64". With this thought in mind, the Rev. and Mrs. John L. Siple of the Woodridge Methodist Church send this New Years message:

"As 1963 closes it's doors, there are only memories left. Some of these are mighty unpleasant memories: such as an assassinated president, little Negro children bombed in their homes, and hate groups that reared their ugly heads all through the year. One out of five of our people went to bed hungry every night while we built new storage houses for our over-production of food. These are now only memories. We cannot un-do that which is done.

"As 1964 opens its doors, we enter with a feeling of anticipation and hope. We hope for peace and prosperity. Particularly do we hope for personal security and safety. It is a sad comment we make against such anticipations, for if your concern is personal and you don't alert your representatives to the changes you want made about the hungry, the retarded and the hate groups; if you don't concern yourself about the fate of the unfortunates and the misery that so many suffer right here in America, 1964 will have about the same look as 1963.

"We only better conditions when we better the lives of those less fortunate. This is our responsibility as citizens. You truly will have a Happy New Year if you try and make it a Happy New Year for others. This is our sincere wish for all."

The Clerk's Office

Village Clerk Faye Hoffman has announced that she is accepting resumes for the positions of deputy clerk and census clerk.

Beginning Jan. 2 the village clerk's office hours will be Tues. and Thurs. from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Sat. from 9 a. m. to noon. The clerk will conduct business in her home, 2913 Crabtree, evenings, Mon., Tues., and Wed. from 7 to 9 p. m.

Vehicle stickers, late in being delivered, have now arrived. Applications are being accepted by the clerk during regular office hours, and a special depository box has been attached to the sign in front of the village hall, 2909 Forest Glen. The vehicle licenses are to be mailed unless otherwise desired.

Prince Of Peace

The units of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church Women met on Wed., Dec. 18, and elected new unit officers for the coming year. In the Ruth unit (morning) Mrs. Jo Cunningham is the chairman, and Mrs. Clara Lundstrom is recorder. In the Mary unit (evening) Mrs. Janice Stewart is chairman and Mrs. Gene Arndt is recorder.

The units are the working groups of the Lutheran Church Women. They meet monthly in members' homes for Bible study and a service project. Their basic responsibilities in the past have been to work closely with the Church School and the Worship and Music committee.

During this past year the Mary unit made robes for the Junior choir. Recently the Ruth unit provided Advent devotional books for each Church School child.

IT'S ELEMENTARY

By SUSAN POSLUSNY

After marching on to victory in the practice game with Woodridge with an approximate score of 18-13, the Goodrich Panthers came limping home from a loss at Lace 22-15. Actually they showed real promise towards the end of the game, for they scored most of their points in the last quarter. By the way,

District 99 Sets Plans For 2nd Tax Rate Vote

Plans for a second try at an educational rate increase for the high school district (Downers Grove Community High school which Woodridge and most Goodrich high school students attend) moved a step nearer as the board of education of district 99 passed a resolution calling for a special election for February 15.

The proposition will be the same one which was defeated last September - an increase from .76% to .97%. This amounts to 21¢ per $100 valuation. The present rate is insufficient to operate the present program.

Winston Manning, board president, has emphasized that the district faces serious financial difficulties. He underscores this by pointing out that if the referendum fails again drastic revisions may result.

Following defeat of the request for added funds to meet instructional costs, the board has been considering alternatives and possible program cuts for the 1964-65 academic year.

Under study are these possibilities: (1) dropping all extracurricular activities including competitive sports; (2) abandoning the guidance and testing program; (3) reducing the staff by 16 teachers and increasing class sizes, (4) not opening the second high school and going on half-day sessions.

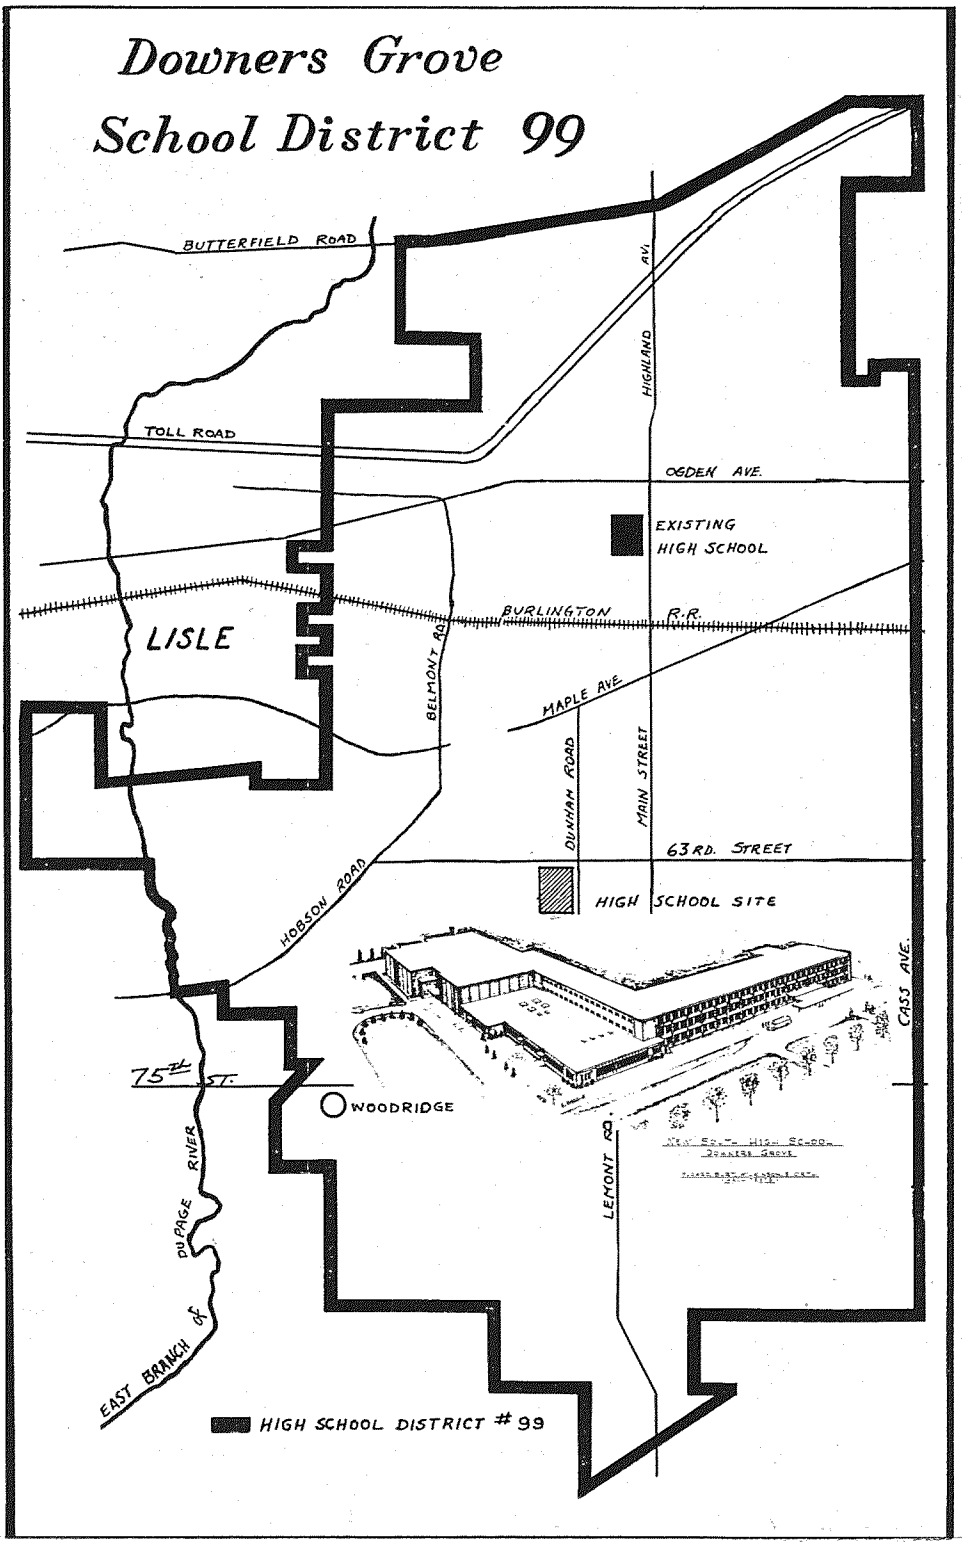

All four steps would be necessary if the district is to operate within available income from the .76% rate, according to school officials.

At right, framed by the boundary lines of the high school district, is the new high school now under construction at 63rd and Dunham at the southern end of Downers Grove.

we definitely do have a basketball team, and in my opinion a mighty fine one. They are: Tom Rietz, Roger Abbott, Jeff Tompson, Bill Kettell, Chuck Bill, Ron Brigel, Danny Schroeder, Rodd Winscott, Ray Smeeth and Randy Ramquist.

The cheerleaders were a little on the "pained" side also. They did pretty well, considering they only had four days practice. If they have more cheers and do them with the same skill and enthusiasm as they had in the first game, the Panthers will have the encouragement to win.
