INSIDE
FINE FREE DETAILS
FALL PROGRAMS

Effective August 1, 2021—FINE FREE

The Woodridge Public Library is now officially Fine Free! As of August 1, 2021, we will no longer assess late fees for anything borrowed from the Woodridge Public Library. Additionally, all existing overdue fines have been cleared from your account.

What does this mean for you?

You will no longer be charged a daily overdue fine on late items. However, library items still need to be returned or renewed by their due date. To help with on-time returns, we will continue to automatically renew items up to Two (2) times and send out reminder notices.

If you have an item that is 21 days overdue, your card will be blocked from checking out other materials. Once the item is returned, the block is lifted automatically. Lost or damaged materials will be charged a replacement and processing fee. Patrons receive several reminders before they are billed for lost items.

Reminders
Courtesy Notice	Two days before item is due
First Overdue Notice	7 days overdue
Second Overdue Notice/Card Blocked	21 days overdue
Billing Notice	42 days overdue

Why Fine Free?

We want people to use the library; fines discourage and even stop people from using the library. Public libraries across the country have seen an increase on return rates after eliminating overdue fines.

It is that simple. Late fines are ineffective for getting people to return items on time. Suspending borrowing privileges is more effective without the financial burden of fines. Fine Free allows us to improve customer service and remove barriers to library use.

FINE FREE Frequently Asked Questions

Will this impact wait times for popular items or make my hold times longer?

We will continue to encourage and promote on-time returns with email reminders and notifications. Libraries that have eliminated overdue fines report that items were returned at similar rates, or return rates actually increased after they changed their policy—which means, eliminating late fines should not adversely impact your wait time. If material is more than 21 days overdue a patron's card will be blocked until the overdue item is returned.

Does "Fine Free" mean I will never be charged by the library ever again?

Daily overdue/late fines are being eliminated. There will still be charges for lost or damaged materials.

What about old overdue fines?

All existing overdue fines owed to Woodridge Public Library have been removed. This does not apply to fines from other libraries or charges for lost or damaged items.

My card is still blocked. Why can't I use it?

There are many reasons why your card may be showing as blocked. The most common reasons include you have fees for lost items, your card was reported lost, or we received returned mail from your address. Contact us and we will see how we can help you.

Will this affect library services or increase taxes?

No. Overdue fines account for less than one percent of our budget.

Does this mean I can keep materials longer?

No. Borrowed items still have due dates and need to be returned on time to avoid suspension of borrowing privileges. We will continue to automatically renew items up to two (2) times, if no one is waiting, and we will send notifications to your phone or email when your item is late. If you keep material 21 days past your due date, your card will be blocked until you return the overdue item(s).

What if I lose or damage an item?

You will be charged the replacement cost and a processing fee.

Why not also waive lost item fees?

The Library's collection – the books, movies, and other materials – is at the core of our services, and is a substantial investment of taxpayer funds. In order to be good stewards of these funds, it is important that we enforce compensation for lost, damaged, or stolen items.

What if I return an item after it was billed as lost?

We will not charge you any late fines if you return an item that was designated as lost.

What if I pay for a lost item and then find it?

Replacement costs for Woodridge Public Library items, minus processing fees, will be refunded.

What if a Woodridge library cardholder checks out materials at another library?

If you use your library card at a neighboring library, Woodridge Public Library cardholders will be charged overdue fines according to that library's policies.

Why is the library removing fines?

We strive to provide excellent service to all residents. Overdue fines create barriers to service and often stop people from using their library. By eliminating fines, we hope to share the collection and services with more community members.

Will I still have to pay to print, fax, and scan documents at the library?

Yes. Fees will still be charged for copying, printing, faxing, and 3D printing.

Children's Programs

Registration for in-person fall programs will begin on Tuesday, September 7. Register through the online Events Calendar.

Storytime and other programs for children and adults to attend in-person at the Woodridge Library are resuming in the fall. We will continue to monitor and adjust safety protocols according to the most recent guidance available, with current Covid-19 measures updated on our webpage. Safety measures directly related to attending in-person programs will be highlighted on the website in the days leading up to registration.

Storytime Events in September, October & November

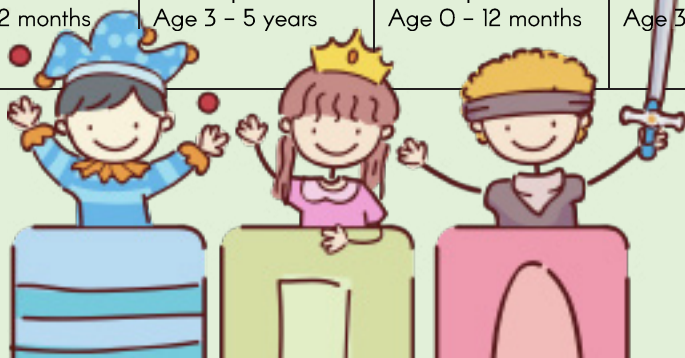

Our story programs are filled with exciting interactive play, games, music, and fun-filled stories. Your child will have a great time while learning social & early literacy skills.

NEW!

- We greatly expanded the number of preschool story events for fall.
- Each story program repeats up to four (4) times per week. Each of the repeats is the EXACT SAME PROGRAM.
- Registration is required.
- Register for up to one (1) story program each week per child.
- Register your child for each individual event date you want them to attend.

Visit the Events Calendar for a full fall listing of story program dates and times. We will offer a repeating schedule of fall story programs:

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday
Storytime 9:30 – 10 a.m. Age 3 – 5 years	Baby Lapsit I 9:30 – 10 a.m. Age 0 – 12 months	Storytime 9:30 – 10 a.m. Age 3 – 5 years	Baby Lapsit I 9:30 – 10 a.m. Age 0 – 12 months.

Storytime FAQs

How do I know which story program to register my child for?

Choose according to age:
 Baby Lapsit: 0 – 12 months
 Baby Lapsit II: 12 – 24 months
 Toddler Time: 2 to 3 years
 Storytime: 3 to 5 year

Why do I have to make a new registration for every date I want my child to attend?

Registering for individual dates allows you to choose from week to week the day and time that work best for you, AND since we repeat each program up to four times a week, we serve more children.

Why can't I sign up for more than one story program a week?

There is only one new story program a week for your child's age group and that exact same program is repeated throughout the week.

For example, if Monday's Toddler Time reads Three Little Frogs, sings "Itsy Bitsy Fly," hops in place, talks about the color green and listens to bullfrog sounds, then Tuesday's Toddler Time will also read Three Little Frogs, sing "Itsy Bitsy Fly," hop in place, talk about the color green...the same program is repeated so different children can attend.

WOODRIDGE PUBLIC LIBRARY

From the Director

I am very excited to announce that the Woodridge Public Library is now fine free. This may be something you have heard about happening at other libraries, or it may be a fresh idea for you. Libraries have traditionally assessed overdue fines based on the belief that this was the best way to incentivize people to return their items on time. For most libraries, it has never been a significant part of their budget nor was it intended to be; in the case of our library, overdue fines represent less than 1% of our revenue.

Many libraries stopped charging overdue fines during COVID and we started seeing on a large scale, what some libraries had been saying for years, that return rates were the same whether there were overdue fines or not. In practice, charging fines for returning items late causes people to stop using the library.

Suspending library-borrowing privileges is far more of an incentive than fines, and it does not have the punitive aspect. When people have overdue items, they will have their card blocked. Once overdue items are returned, there will be no fine and more items can then be checked out. If you have more questions about how this works, check out our website or inside this issue of the newsletter for Fine Free details and the answers to Frequently Asked Questions.

Our goal is to encourage even more people to use the library. If you have library items that you have had for a while, now is the time to return them. As long as we have the items back, you will owe us nothing. We have also cleared any overdue fines that people have on their accounts. We invite you to come in. It's time for a clean slate.
